Foreword

Evidence of change is ever present in our society. What is new today will be old and obsolete tomorrow. Consider the change that a year brings to clothing styles; that ten years bring to the automobile; that twenty years bring to air travel. With time, change comes to all things . . . to all, that is, except people. Their outward behavior may change in order to adapt to new aspects of the environment, but that within them which responds to change remains basically the same.

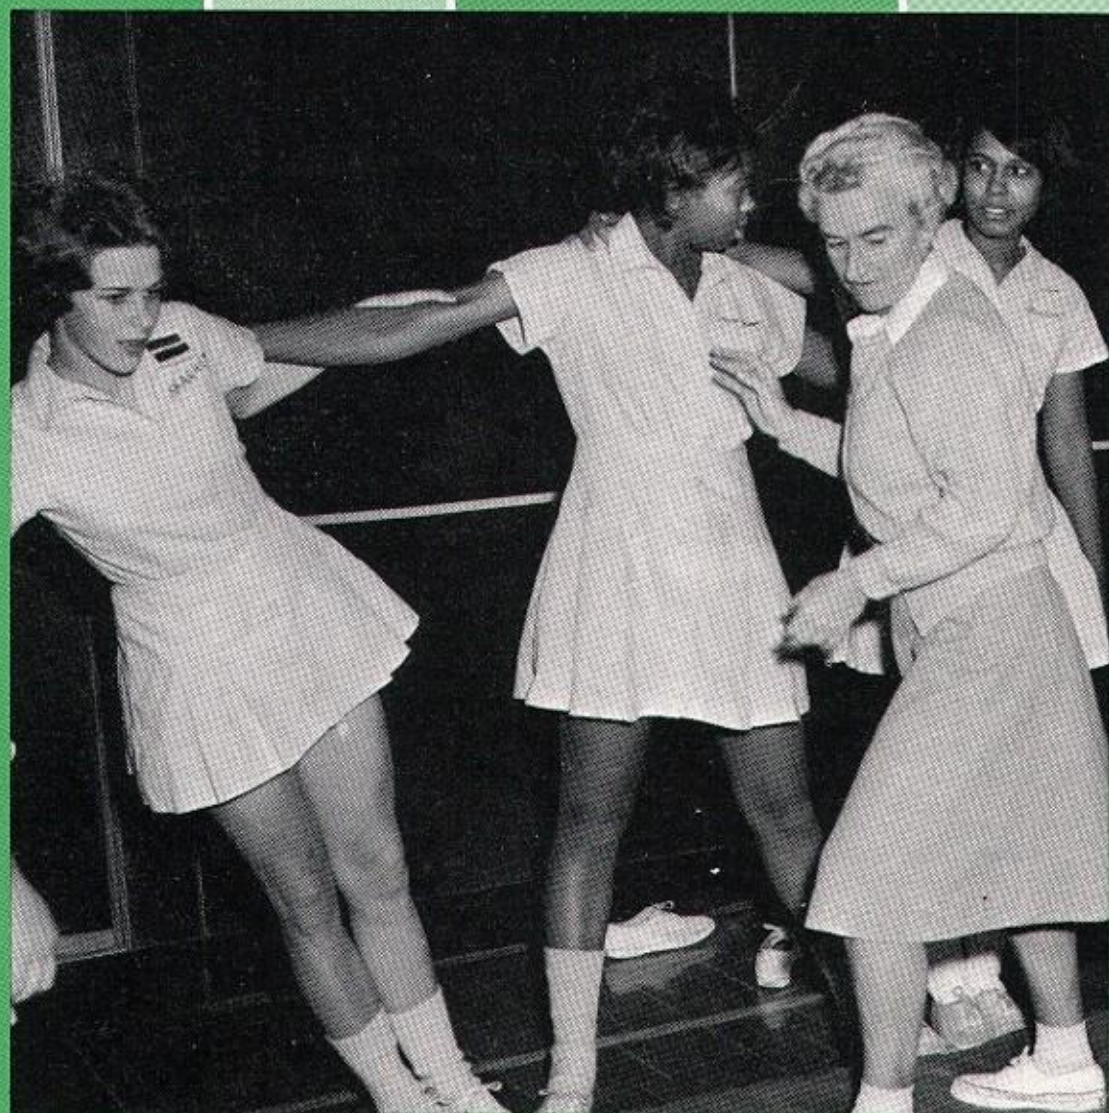

This yearbook will depict the effect of change in our local environment, in the school, and in the community. At the same time it will show that, while many changes have taken place in Westbury and Westbury High throughout the years, the people—although grown in numbers and presenting new faces—are still inwardly the same.

ELISA PROLY

The staff of the 1964 Wing and Spur takes great pleasure in dedicating this edition to one on our faculty who has fully devoted her efforts and activities to our school.

For twenty-one years, as head of the Girls' Athletic Association, her influence has been a strong and lasting one. Her desire and ability to lead young people has always been very evident. Highly respected for her good judgment, she shows a keen interest for each student and displays an unusual degree of patience and understanding when working with them.

Enthusiasm is her trademark, and she instills this, along with confidence, in all those with whom she comes in contact. Outstanding is her ability to develop loyalty, good sportsmanship, and love for competitive activity. Alertness, loyalty, sincerity, and a willing readiness to give of herself—all further characterize this cheerful woman.

For these reasons we take great pride in dedicating the 1964 Wing and Spur to you, Miss Elisa Proly.

HIGHLIGHTS

Gone is the era of the Virginia Reel, Cake Walk, and Turkey Trot. Ours is the time of the Twist, Limbo, and Bosa Nova. But, whatever the differences among the dances of the day, the pleasures derived from the company of good friends has not varied from the old.

Marty Neidell and Larry Rothman collaborate on a calculus problem while Suzan Rucker solves it independently.

School Life

Westbury High School is a maze of animated lives, intermingled in the everyday pattern of school activities. A large part of these activities exist outside the normal classroom routine. Wing and Spur photographers have captured on film glimpses of students both at work and at play.

Talent Show

Those who were present on November 7 for our Fifth Annual Talent Show, directed by Miss Jeanne Sadlow and sponsored by the Thespians, know that it was a resounding success. Master of Ceremonies, Gregory Koster, was our guide for a "Weekend in New York" that included imaginary visits to famous tourist attractions for songs, dances, and instrumental arrangements. From the first number to the last, this year's talent show was a highly entertaining and interesting presentation.

Included among the talent was the following: seven individual acts, Laura Taylor, Steve Lewis, Claudia Kowal, Mark Kieselstein, Laurie Killoch, Judy Jones and Charlese Drakeford; eleven acts consisting of two folk-singing groups, two instrumental groups, four popular music groups, and two general entertainment groups—one of comedy and one of baton twirling.

South Pacific

Time: World War Two; Place: a group of tropical islands. This is the setting of Rodgers' and Hammerstein's immortal musical South Pacific. On March 29 and 30, 1963, this play was presented by the Westbury High School Thespians.

Those who had a hand in the production deserve the highest praise. Director Miss Jeanne Sadlow did an excellent job of casting and working with the actors, as did student directors Linda Katz and Marjorie Cohen. All of the beautiful art work was created under the supervision of Mr. Robert Heist. A group of skillful seamstresses, guided by Miss Eva Bronner, designed the costumes. The musical accompaniment was provided by the Westbury High School Band, under the direction of Mr. William Kupferberg.

Basically, the story is one of romance—between Emile de Becque, a French planter, and Nellie Forbush, an American nurse, and between Marine Lieutenant Joseph Cable and Liat, a native girl. Other important characters include Bloody Mary (Liat's mother) and Luther Billis (a Seabee).

Westbury High's production of South Pacific was a rewarding and interesting experience for both those behind the footlights and those in the audience.

Laurie Killoch (Liat) and Dave Esdale (Lt. Cable) sing "Younger than Springtime" as they stroll on Bloody Mary's island.

Perfection is the prerequisite for a good make-up job; those last minute touch-ups done by Patti Heisler on Carole Papain make the difference.

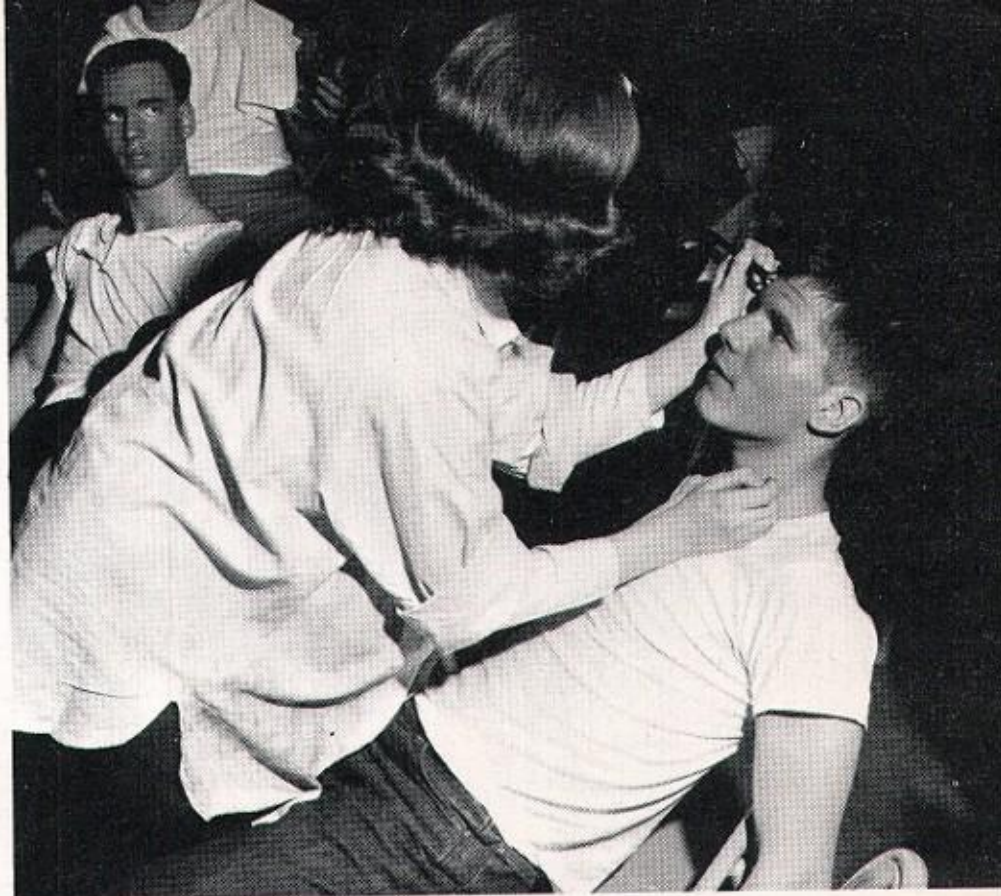

Jane Laufer's (Nellie Forbush) misgivings about spying on Emile de Becque amuse Fred Goldgram (Capt. Brackett) and David Drucker (Harbison).

"Come to Bali Hai," calls Mary as the sailors listen enthusiastically.

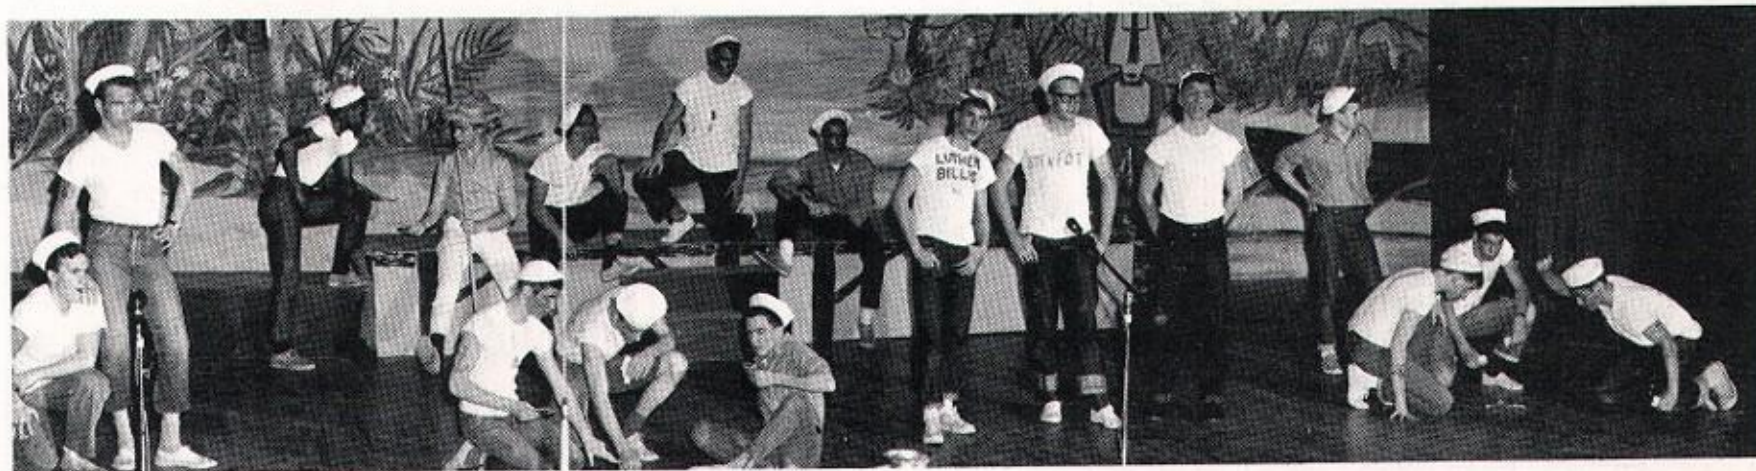

"Grass skirts, four dolla," is too much for Billis as Bloody Mary looks away in disgust.

Fredi Bloom works on Danny Schiffmacher as Dave Drucker anxiously awaits his finishing touches.

The mirth and merriment created by the presentation of the school's first musical, Brigadoon, was again evident in South Pacific.

Seabees join in as Billis, Stewpot, and Muscles lament their lonely situation by singing "There is Nothing Like a Dame."

Seabees, Mike DeMicco, Bob DeStefan, Ed Flynn, Billy Franz, and Jack Carroll, look dreamily away toward Bali Hai.

Jay Laurenson (L'il Abner) dances to the strains of "Bloody Mary is the Girl I Love" as Bob Heist and Bob DeStefan accompany him.

Jo-Ann Shusterman glares at her newly sophisticated sister, Barbara Zaino, as their father, David Crowe, watches resignedly.

Getting ready for a bal-de-tête, Anne Michaelson helps her husband with his headdress.

Senior Play

All high school students know that it is a struggle to grow up and find an identity. This year's Senior Class play, Take Her, She's Mine, by Phoebe and Henry Ephron, is a warmly amusing story of a young girl's conflicts in becoming an adult.

The plot centers around Molly Michaelson, played by Barbara Zaino, who leaves her parents (played by David Crowe and Janet Bickford) and her younger sister, Liz (Jo-Ann Shusterman), to attend an exclusive Eastern girls' college. Her experiences and acquaintances at school help Molly to understand herself, but not before several crises occur. Finally, however, all is solved and Mr. and Mrs. Michaelson breathe a sigh of relief, only to realize that their younger daughter, Liz, will soon have to conquer her conflicts also.

The play was directed by Miss Jeanne Sadlow with student assistance from Suzan Rucker, Gloria Aschengrau, and Claudia Kowal. With the aid of the art, home economics, and industrial arts departments as well, under Mr. Robert Heist, Miss Eva Bronner, and Mr. Gerald Mallon, respectively, the Senior Class's presentation of Take Her, She's Mine, on January 16 and 17 was a memorable event.

Molly is presented with her high school diploma by principal, John DeLeo.

Checking his watch for time of departure, Frank chats with Molly, Alex, Anne, and Liz at the airport.

Adele MacDougal (Adair Bowman), wonders what the future has in store for her at Hawthorne.

"You should be on the stage," advises Mr. Michaelson to Emmett. "It leaves in five minutes."

During parents' weekend at Hawthorne, Molly and her father attend Dr. Hibbetts' (David Webster) lecture on poetry.

Ring Dance

One of the social highlights of the year at Westbury High School is the Junior Ring Dance. The dance, held on May 4, 1963, was complete with music provided by Bobby and the Orbits and refreshments served by underclassmen. The climax of the evening occurred when the Juniors received their rings from Mr. Kickham as they walked through the huge wooden ring. This ring was constructed and presented to the school by the class of 1963. Replacing the Junior Prom, this is the second year that the Ring Dance has been held.

Sadie Hawkins Dance

"Turn about is fair play," is an old saying that was proved true by the Sadie Hawkins Dance. For this dance, which was held on November 16, the girls of Westbury High School were given the opportunity to ask the boys of their choice to attend. The gay decor provided by the seniors added a seasonal atmosphere to the occasion while the couples danced to the music of Bobby and the Orbits. The evening was highlighted by the mock marriage ceremonies in which the couples received pipe cleaner rings and fake marriage licenses.

Facial expressions of Joan Breitingner, Cathy Stewart and Tony Iadaveia characterize the gay mood shared by all.

King and Queen Dance

Saturday, December 28, 1963, was the date of the long awaited coronation of our King and Queen, chosen by the student body. Applause greeted the royal couple, Betty Jane Eason and John Genova, as Ed Flynn, senior class president, placed the crowns on their heads.

The music for the dance was provided by Bobby and the Orbits. Snowflakes suspended from the ceiling helped lend an air of winter festivity to this delightful and enjoyable evening.

SENIOR PROM

Held at the Salisbury Country Club on May 31, 1963, the Senior Prom highlighted the social schedule of the Class of 1963. This was the first time since 1957 that the Prom was held out of the school. Those who attended were treated to a delicious dinner as well as an evening of dancing. Music was provided by the Tam O'Shanter Country Club Band. For everyone who was present at the Senior Prom, it was a truly memorable event.

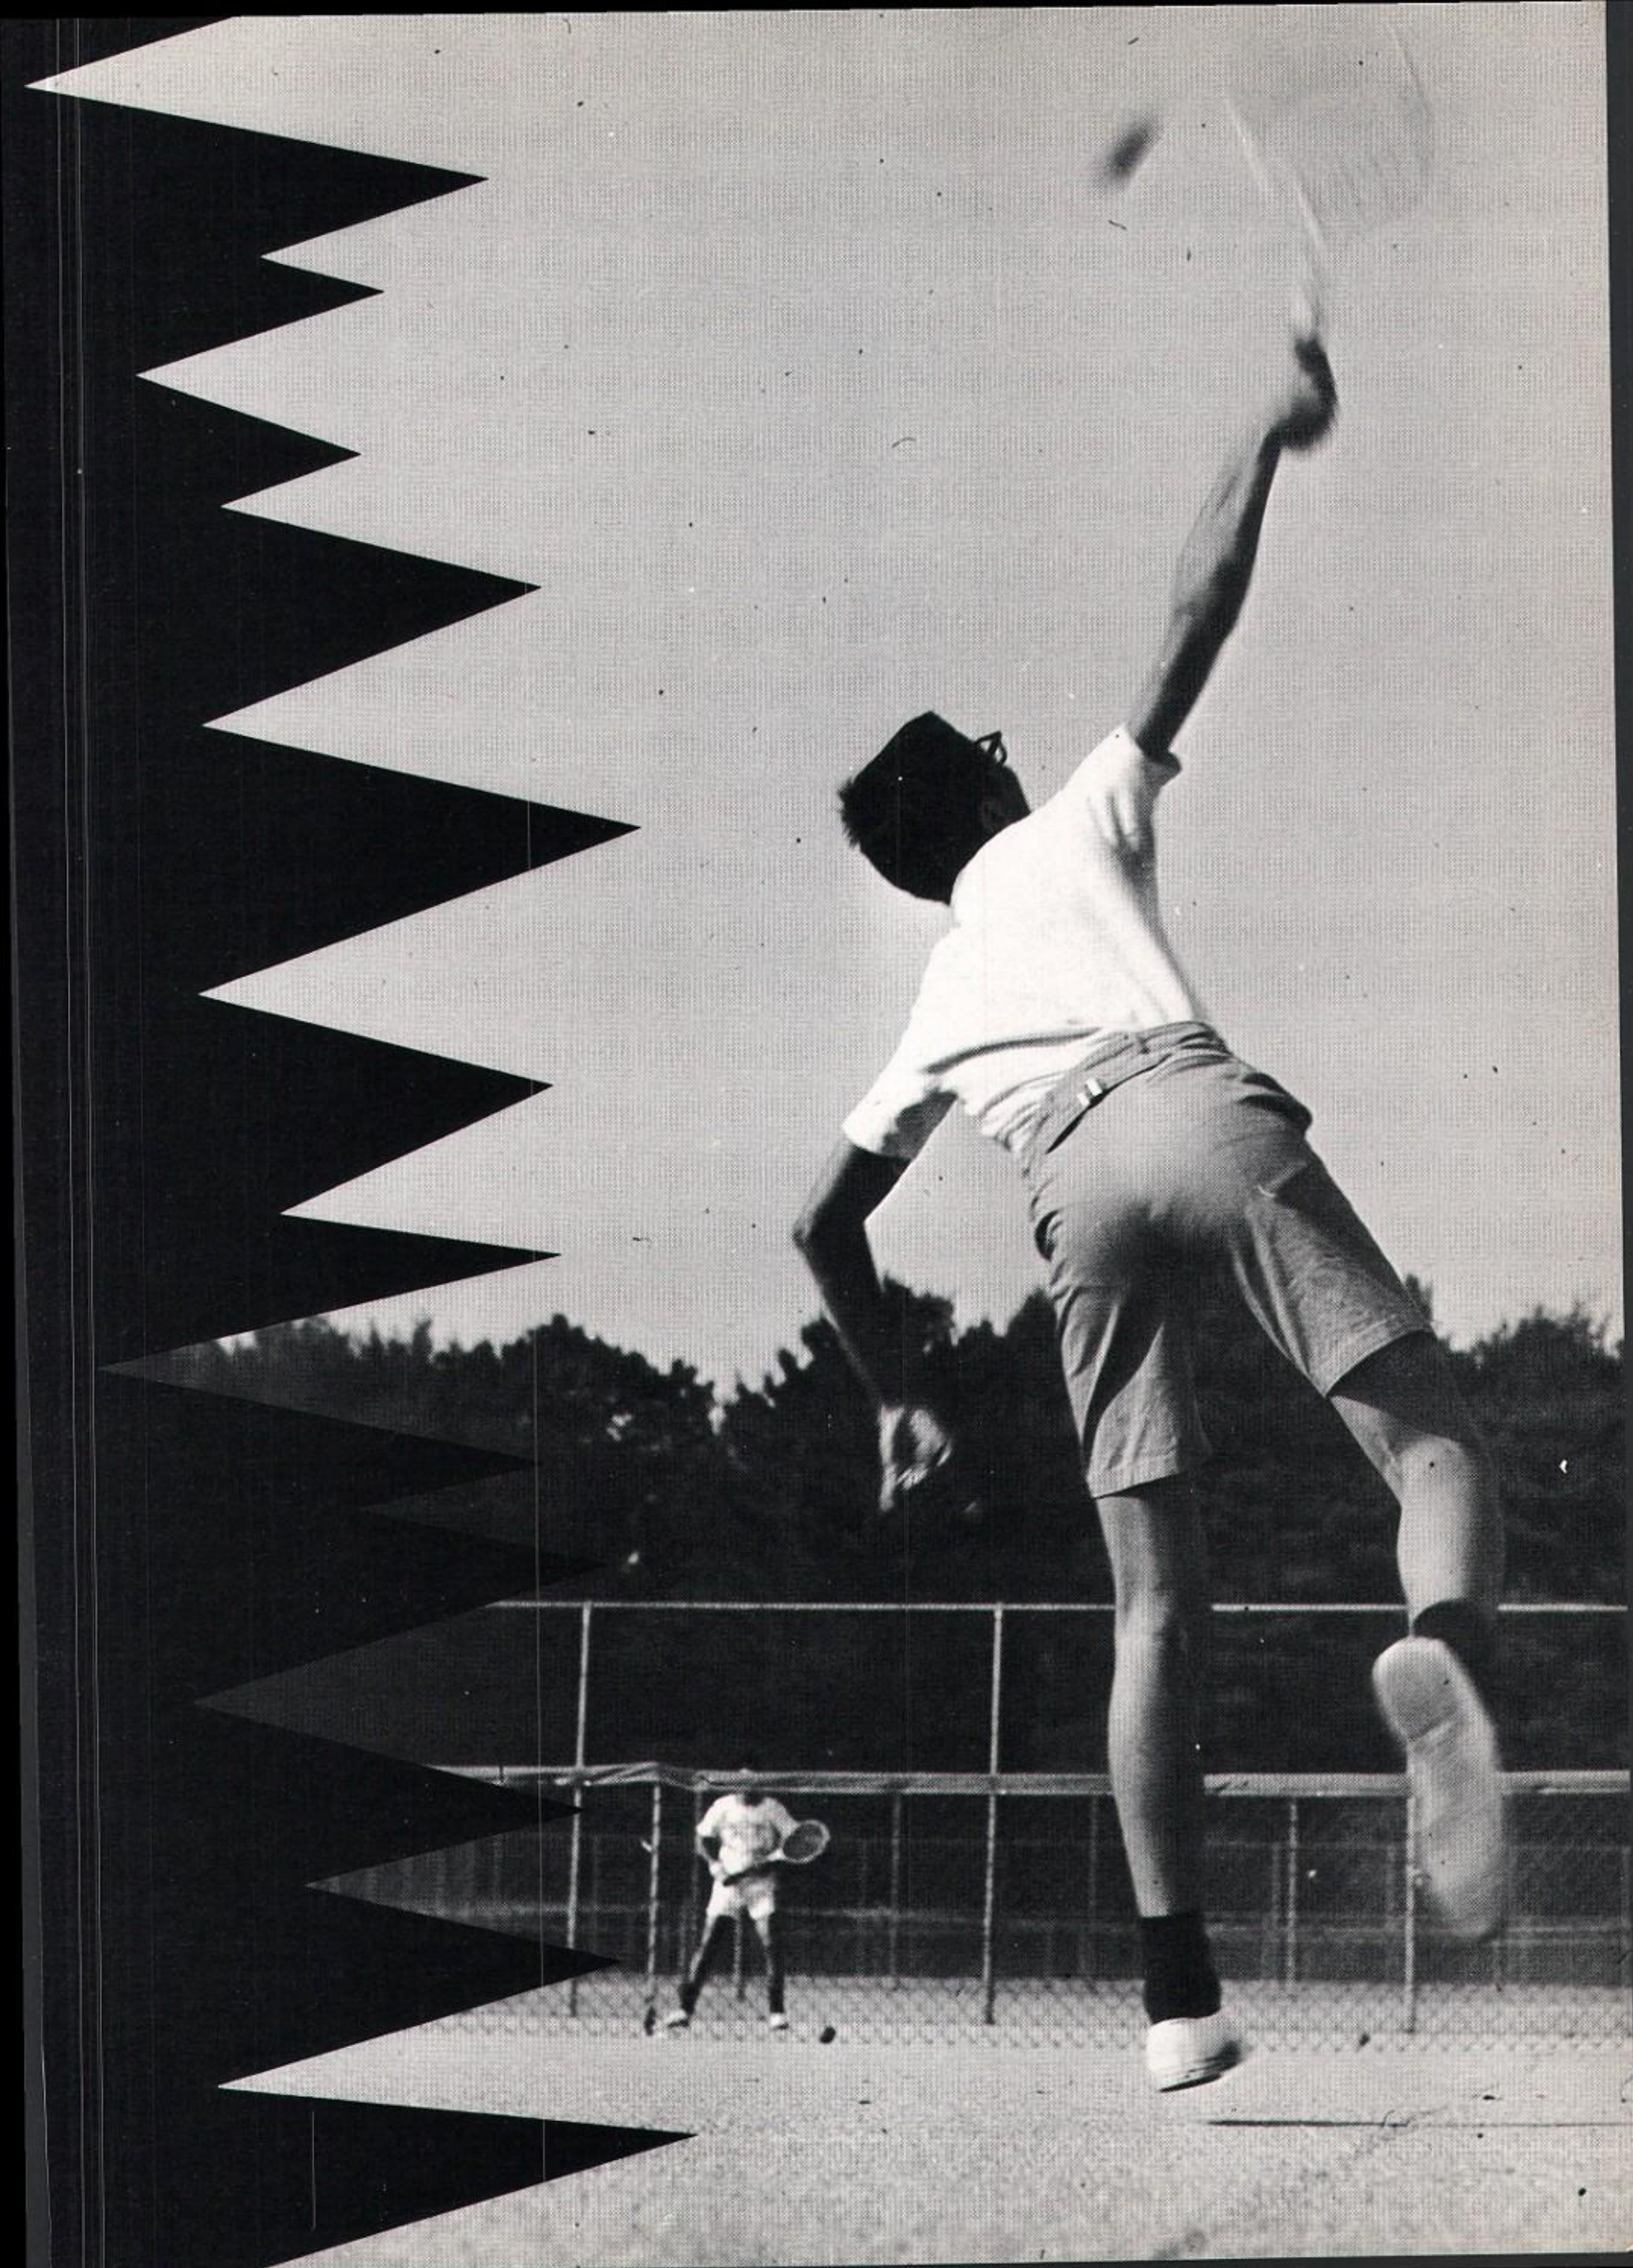

After a night of dining and dancing, some members of the senior class pause for a breath of fresh air.

SPORTS

One could almost say that, in earlier days, tennis was played in spite of cumbersome uniforms and poor equipment. Today, while these have been improved to meet the finest demands of the game, the fun and desire to win remains the same.

Soccer

Soccer season started out with a bang with approximately 60 boys coming out for the team. With a wide selection to choose from, coaches John Hotchkiss and Robert Otto picked 22 boys to fill the starting positions on the Varsity and J.V., respectively. The starting team for the varsity was perhaps the best team in the history of soccer at Westbury since most of the players were returning lettermen.

The season started with a 5—0 victory over Glen Cove and then disaster struck. Almost within a week, four of our starters were injured and put out of commission for the season. Ed Flynn, Don Larris, George Franz, and Dave Friedman were the unfortunate ones and all but Ed were in casts. In spite of this loss, the team played brilliantly to composite a 5—4—3 league and a 5—5—4 total record. The team's real potential was proved when John Genova, Cliff Vanterpool, and 9th grader "Cheech" Monteforte were chosen as all-division men.

Football

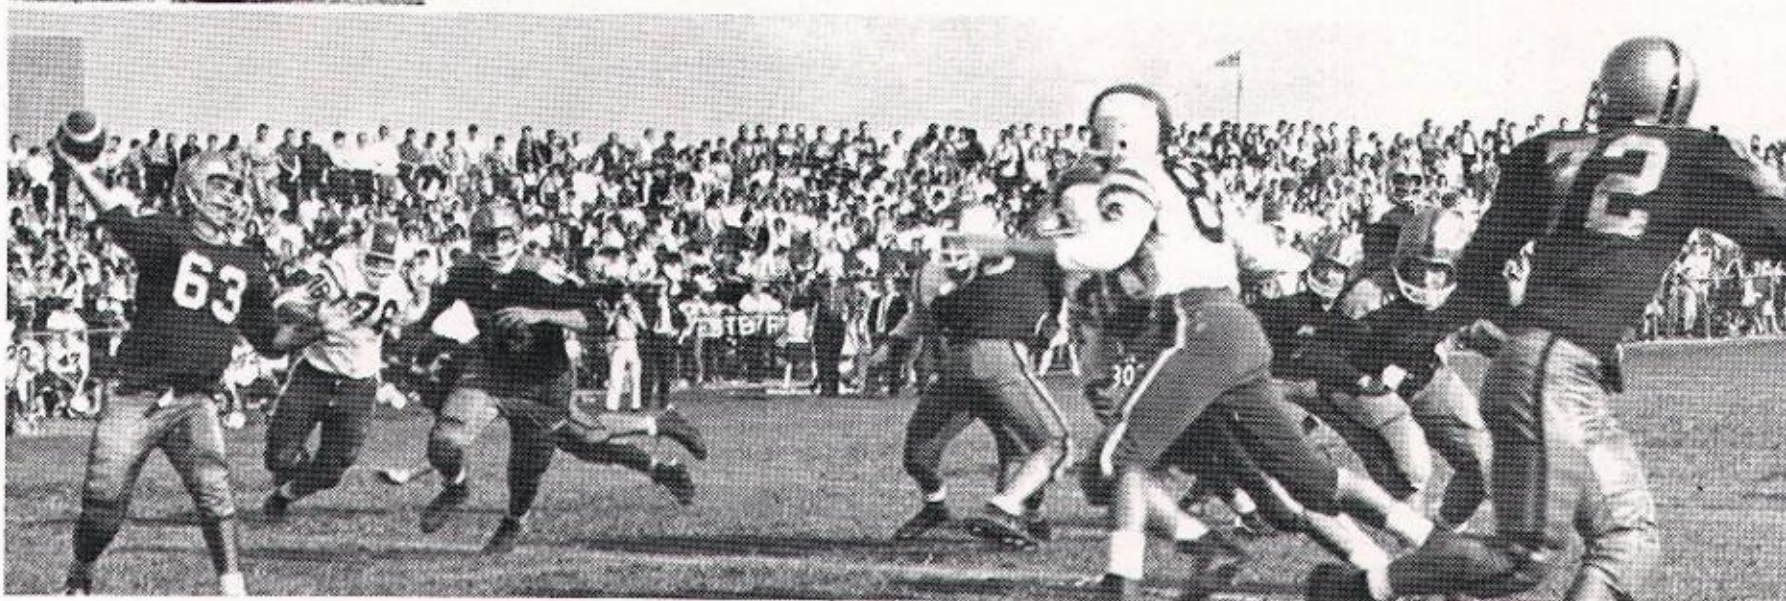

Westbury's football team had a tough schedule this year. Even though it won only two games, the team showed good spirit and fight throughout the entire season. The team finished the year on a good note, with a 13-7 victory over Manhasset.

The team was led in scoring by co-captains Richie Ball (30 points) and Leo Furcht (25 points), and sophomore Barry Chantrelle (24 points). Richie Ball was one of Westbury's finest quarterbacks, while Leo Furcht made the Division III all star team as an end.

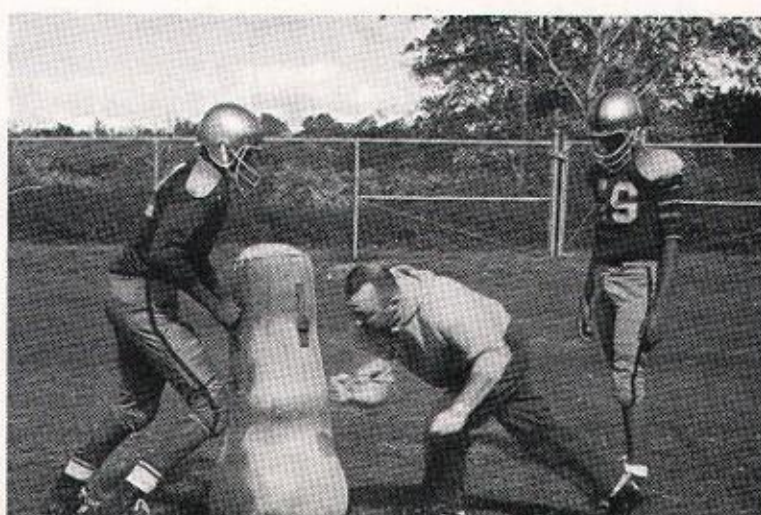

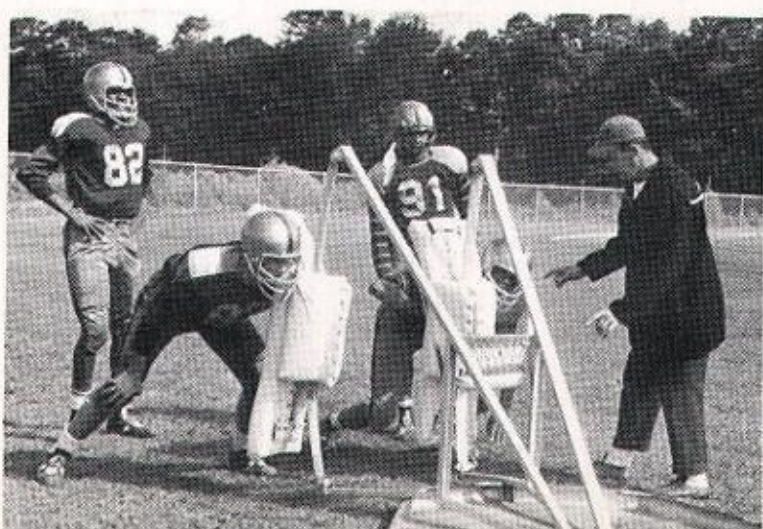

The most memorable play of the year occurred when lineman Sam Russo picked up a Manhasset fumble and rumbled forty yards for a touchdown.

We are losing ten of our starters through graduation, but Coach Coleman thinks we have good prospects for next season.

Excellent protection from his line enables Richie Ball to complete a short pass to his end, Leo Furcht.

Swimming

Under the direction of Mr. Robert Otto, the Westbury High Swimming Team was again ready to compete. Although previous seasons have not been too favorable, the morale, as well as the strength of the team, has been gradually increasing. With the contributions made by freshmen, the team should be improving their record in the near future.

The team's points were scored almost entirely by the seven returning lettermen which include co-captains Mike Sirover and Chet Burrell, Dave Levine, and divers Roger Bass and Chris Whitehead. Coupled with the experienced swimmers is a large group of sophomores and juniors. It is hoped that this combination will be strong enough to overcome any opposition.

Young talent brightens hope for improved record.

Wrestling

Westbury had an unusual number of candidates for the Wrestling Team at the season's beginning, but by the end, only 30 tough grapplers remained. This was due to the new training program instituted by Coach Thomas Sheehan. The team turned in creditable performances against such tough teams as Carle Place, Plainedge, and Clarke. Unfortunately the team was hampered by injuries throughout the latter part of the year. The J.V. had a good year and even though the Varsity is losing some good senior wrestlers, the Junior Varsity will fill the gaps adequately.

Baseball

In 1963, Westbury High's Baseball Team compiled a record of 7 wins and 14 losses, an improvement of 2 wins over last year's totals. Unfortunately, a record of wins and losses cannot show the determination and good sportsmanship that our players exhibited during each of their games. The season was highlighted by a shutout over our rival, Carle Place.

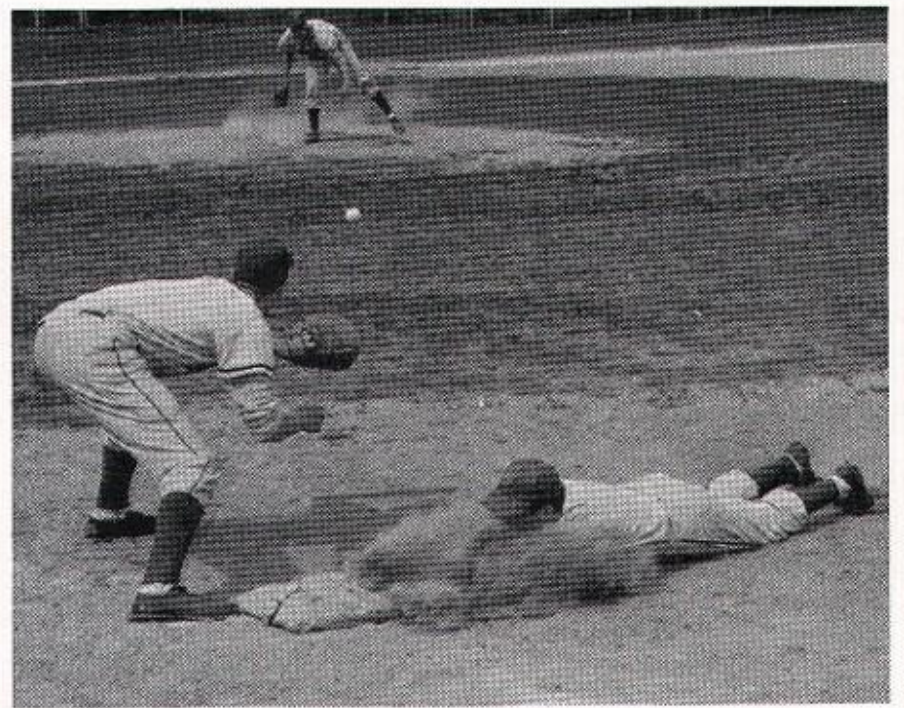

Mr. Ray Coleman coached the varsity team while Mr. Edward Krinsky handled the junior varsity. Star hitters included Richard Ball, who made All-Division as a 3rd baseman, and Mike DeMicco, who made honorable mention. John Guadagnino and Richard DeLeo contributed to the squad's efforts by doing some fine pitching.

Determination is set on Arthur Hesse's face as he squares to bunt.

Championship form again

Basketball

With an abundance of talent on the court, Westbury High's Basketball Team was able to compile an overall record of 16 victories and two defeats. Our league record of 11 wins and one loss placed us first in Division III of the North Shore.

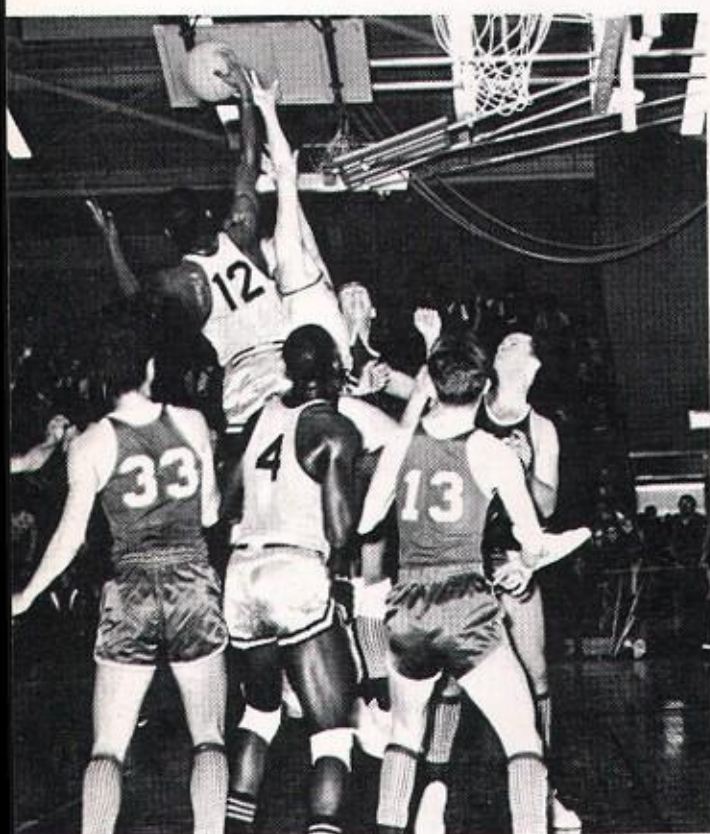

The combination of Marc Friedman and Joe DePre rebounding under the boards and All-County star Rudy Waterman sinking shots with either hand to total an average of approximately 25 points per game, made the team indestructible. Coaching the boys on to victory again was Mr. Ed Krinsky, who worked the team hard to develop its full potential. Richie Ball, Clarence Miller, and Charlie Paviolitis played well both offensively and defensively and helped to initiate the plays.

Though five of the team's top six players will be lost through graduation, next year's squad should be good since the J.V. has lost only two of its games and consists of many potential varsity men.

Strong foundation set for next season

Golf

Spring means just one thing to nine boys at Westbury; it's time for the golf courses to open. This year, with Mr. Thomas Fitzgerald's coaching, the boys were able to pick up some of the finer points of the game.

The '63 team was led by Barry Blazer and George Wiley, who both finished the season with fine averages. Though the team's record was only three wins and eight losses, the '64 season holds a promise of greater success with lettermen Barry Blazer, Marshall Butler, Dave Friedman, Don Ellenberg, and Jim Colligan returning.

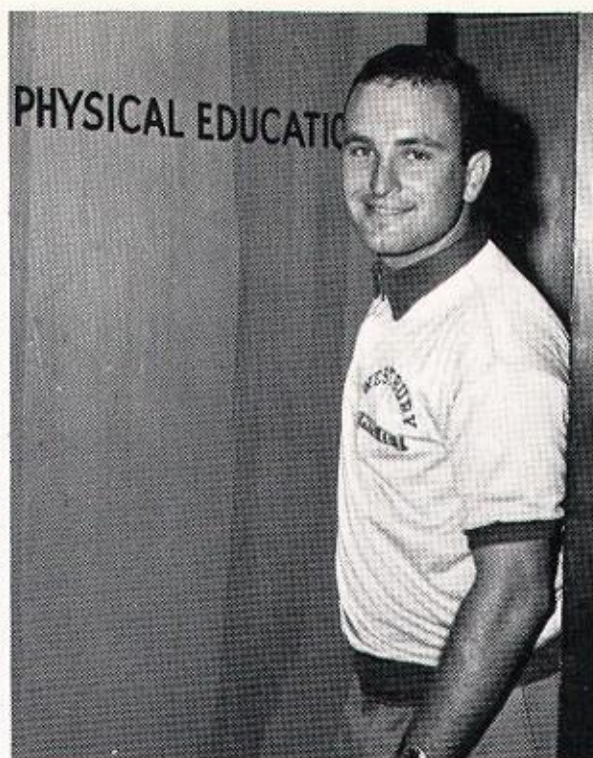

Members of the boys' Intramural Badminton Team are A. Hesse, P. Palmese, V. Alfieri, P. Simmons, C. Anand, T. McKenna, and Mr. Harvey Kulchin, Director.

Kent Seelig and Neil Karp jumped for the ball which started the first game of the 1964 Basketball intramural season.

Jerry Cohen, Bob Fierman, Steve Lewis, and Michael Love take victory stance after becoming champions of Intramural Tennis.

Mr. Kulchin, as Director of Intramurals, coordinates the activities of the participating teams.

Westbury High is fortunate in having an intramural program designed to give the boys who do not play on varsity teams the opportunity to compete with boys of similar athletic abilities. Coinciding with the seasonal varsity sports are intramural sports which begin with soccer in the early fall. With approximately ten teams, each consisting of eight men, games are scheduled bi-weekly and are refereed by fellow students. Touch football follows. Tennis is also provided in the fall in which single elimination tournaments are held.

Volleyball and basketball are the most popular sports in the winter, but the program also includes gymnastics and weight training. The basketball games are characterized by tricky passing and difficult shooting, while teamwork is the winning combination on the volleyball courts. The winter season is brought to a close with the annual wrestling contest in which boys compete in weight classes for trophies.

Spring brings many softball teams to the school's numerous diamonds. Competition is stiff among the teams and the winning nine is not victorious by chance. The year is highlighted by an interclass track meet in which ribbons are awarded to the first four boys who place in each event.

Intramurals

Intramural Football players include P. Kelly, R. Snizek, V. Chopard, J. Vice, T. Childers, T. Kennelly, R. Gerdik, and N. Karp.

Division III champs look eagerly toward the counties next year.

Early last spring, the dirt was flying as the Track Team of 1963 started practicing. With this eager squad, coaches Edward Cryer and Thomas Sheehan were able to produce a team that went undefeated for the season and took the Division III championship with a compiled record of eight wins and no losses.

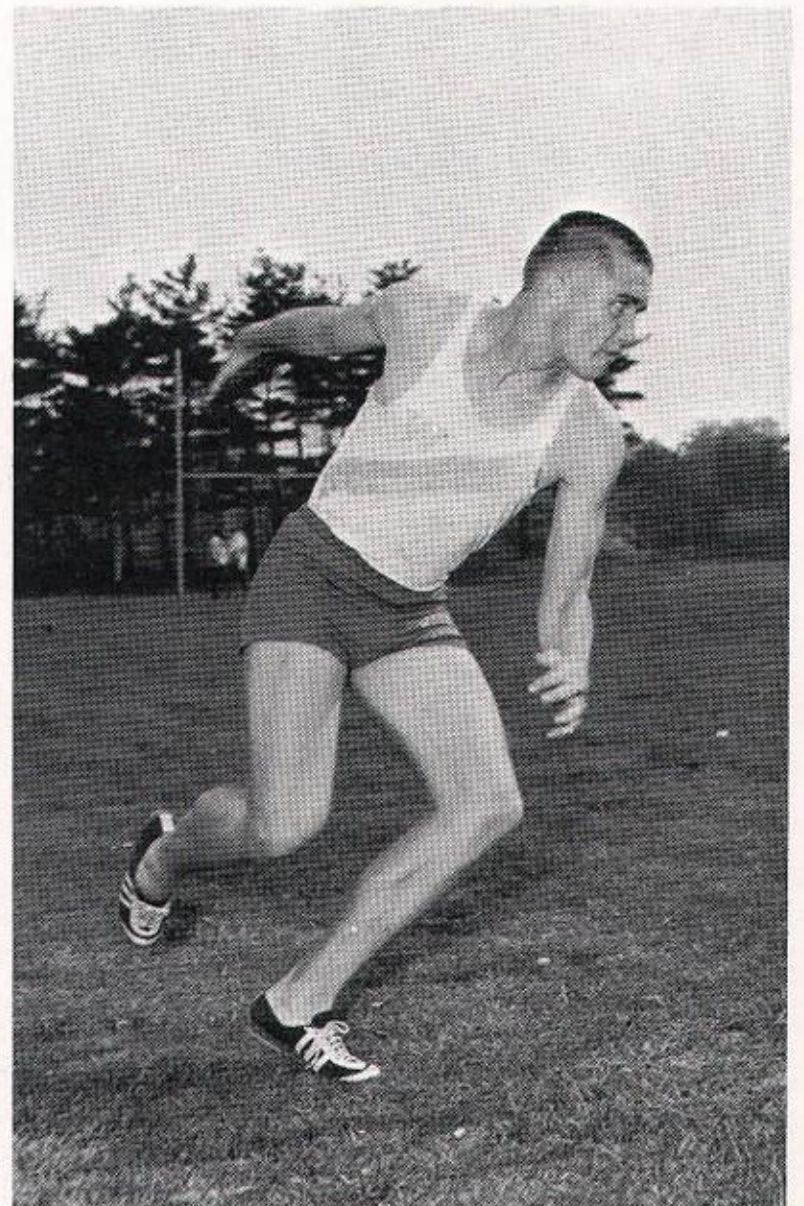

The team's success was due to its dedicated coaches and to the fact that its numerous stars were so evenly distributed among the various events. Special recognition went to Dave Wright, who competed in the 180-yard low hurdles in the All-County Meet. Many of the stars such as Leo Furcht, James Vice, Anthony Potenza, Otis Jackson, and Dwight Cockeran will be returning this year in an attempt to win the Division III championship for the second consecutive year.

"Excellent form," one may say when eyeing a fine jump by Cliff Vanterpool.

From the first week of the season until the last, Mr. Kenneth Backus may be found coaching the school's Rifle Team on its range located at the Junior High School. With expert riflemen Walter Finley, Vic Cruse, and Bruce Froeschl, the team turned in a creditable record of 5 wins and 10 losses. With a number of this year's team returning next year, Mr. Backus predicts a good season.

Bowling

Once again Mr. Thomas Fitzgerald has coached the Bowling Team to a satisfactory season's record of 3 wins and 6 losses. Though the record was truly a team effort, Randy Bergman, Joe Friar, and Larry Rothman bowled exceptionally well. Next year's team looks promising because of the many fine bowlers now participating in the intramural program from which the varsity bowlers will be chosen.

Activities for all—

Officials Club

Perhaps the most active of all the clubs comprising the Girls' Athletic Association is the Officials Club. Members of this organization are those students who are interested in officiating at such G.A.A. activities as hockey, volleyball, basketball, and softball. Under the supervision of Miss Patricia Dow and Miss Elisa Proly, members gain excellent experience in the promotion of leadership and cooperation, as well as a good background of the regulations of each particular sport.

Executive Board

Each year the Executive Board of the Girls' Athletic Association is elected by its members, numbering about 180 girls, to serve as leaders of all G.A.A. functions. It is responsible for welcoming girls from various schools on sports days and presiding over all organizational meetings. Also, it is in charge of all fund raising activities, such as selling candy after school. Annually it sponsors the Christmas Party and the Mother and Daughter Banquet. As leaders of the G.A.A., the Executive Board has helped to make it a successful organization.

Hockey, Archery, Bowling

On cool autumn afternoons, members of G.A.A. Hockey Club can be seen practicing their skills for inter-school playdays. These playdays give the girls an opportunity to increase their knowledge of the game and to meet girls from other schools.

Female William Tells have the opportunity to participate in the G.A.A. Archery Club. The members, composed of juniors and seniors, increase their skills and compete each year in the National Archery Association Tournament.

Bowling Club, open to senior G.A.A. members only, serves the two-fold purpose of improving bowling skills and providing recreation. A fitting climax to the year is the annual Mother-Daughter Bowling Tournament.

Tumbling

Opportunities for improving all-around physical fitness are provided by the G.A.A. Tumbling and Apparatus Club. From this experience, members have the chance to better their skill on the mats and on the different kinds of apparatus. This year, the girls were given the opportunity to work out on two new pieces of equipment, the uneven parallels and the balance beam. Under the direction of Miss Elisa Proly and Miss Patricia Dow, this club meets twice a week during the spring season.

Tennis managers were FIRST: Nancy Berke and Elizabeth Wolfe. SECOND: Marcia Foster and Merijane Bacon.

Tennis

"Keep your eye on the ball and don't forget to follow through!" During the last few months of school this is a familiar phrase heard on Westbury High School's tennis courts. Under the coaching of Miss Elisa Proly, the girls develop their eye and hand coordination while practicing accurate serves and volleys. As a finish to the season, tournaments are held to provide the girls with an opportunity to put their skills into practice.

Volleyball, Badminton, and Basketball

Watch the birdie! What a racket! This, of course, refers to the Badminton Club, open to junior and senior girls. Under the instruction of Miss Elisa Proly, the girls learn the fine points of the game. The season is highlighted by the Round Robin Elimination Tournament.

Better co-ordination and accurate serves are the goals of all members of G.A.A. Volleyball Club. This club, open to all girls, meets every Tuesday and Thursday. The girls become skilled in the game while engaged in spirited competition.

The winter season would not be complete without G.A.A. Basketball, which, like volleyball, is open to all girls. Its members become more skilled, and the accuracy of their eye and hand co-ordination is developed while they enjoy the sport and participate in competition.

Anne Overko leaps into the air to return a volley while Cathy Stewart anticipates her next play.

Brenda Ratteray, Ray Reider, Yvonne Clark, and Anne Overko are the managers for the badminton team.

Basketball Club members, M. Rowan, M. D'Anna, P. Maerz, J. Bickford, M. Bacon, and D. Bould vie for possession of the ball in order to score the winning point.

Marla Feldstein shows D. Reape, S. Coleman, L. Napolin, E. Lidstrom, and B. Schuster how to grip a bat.

Softball

"Batter up! Strike one!" During the spring sports' season, the G.A.A. Softball Club holds intramurals. Directors, Miss Patricia Dow and Miss Elisa Proly, coach the girls in batting and fielding skills while student umpires run the games. Frequent interscholastic sportsdays highlight the season and provide members with the chance to gain more experience.

Now, 12 clubs are available

Swimming

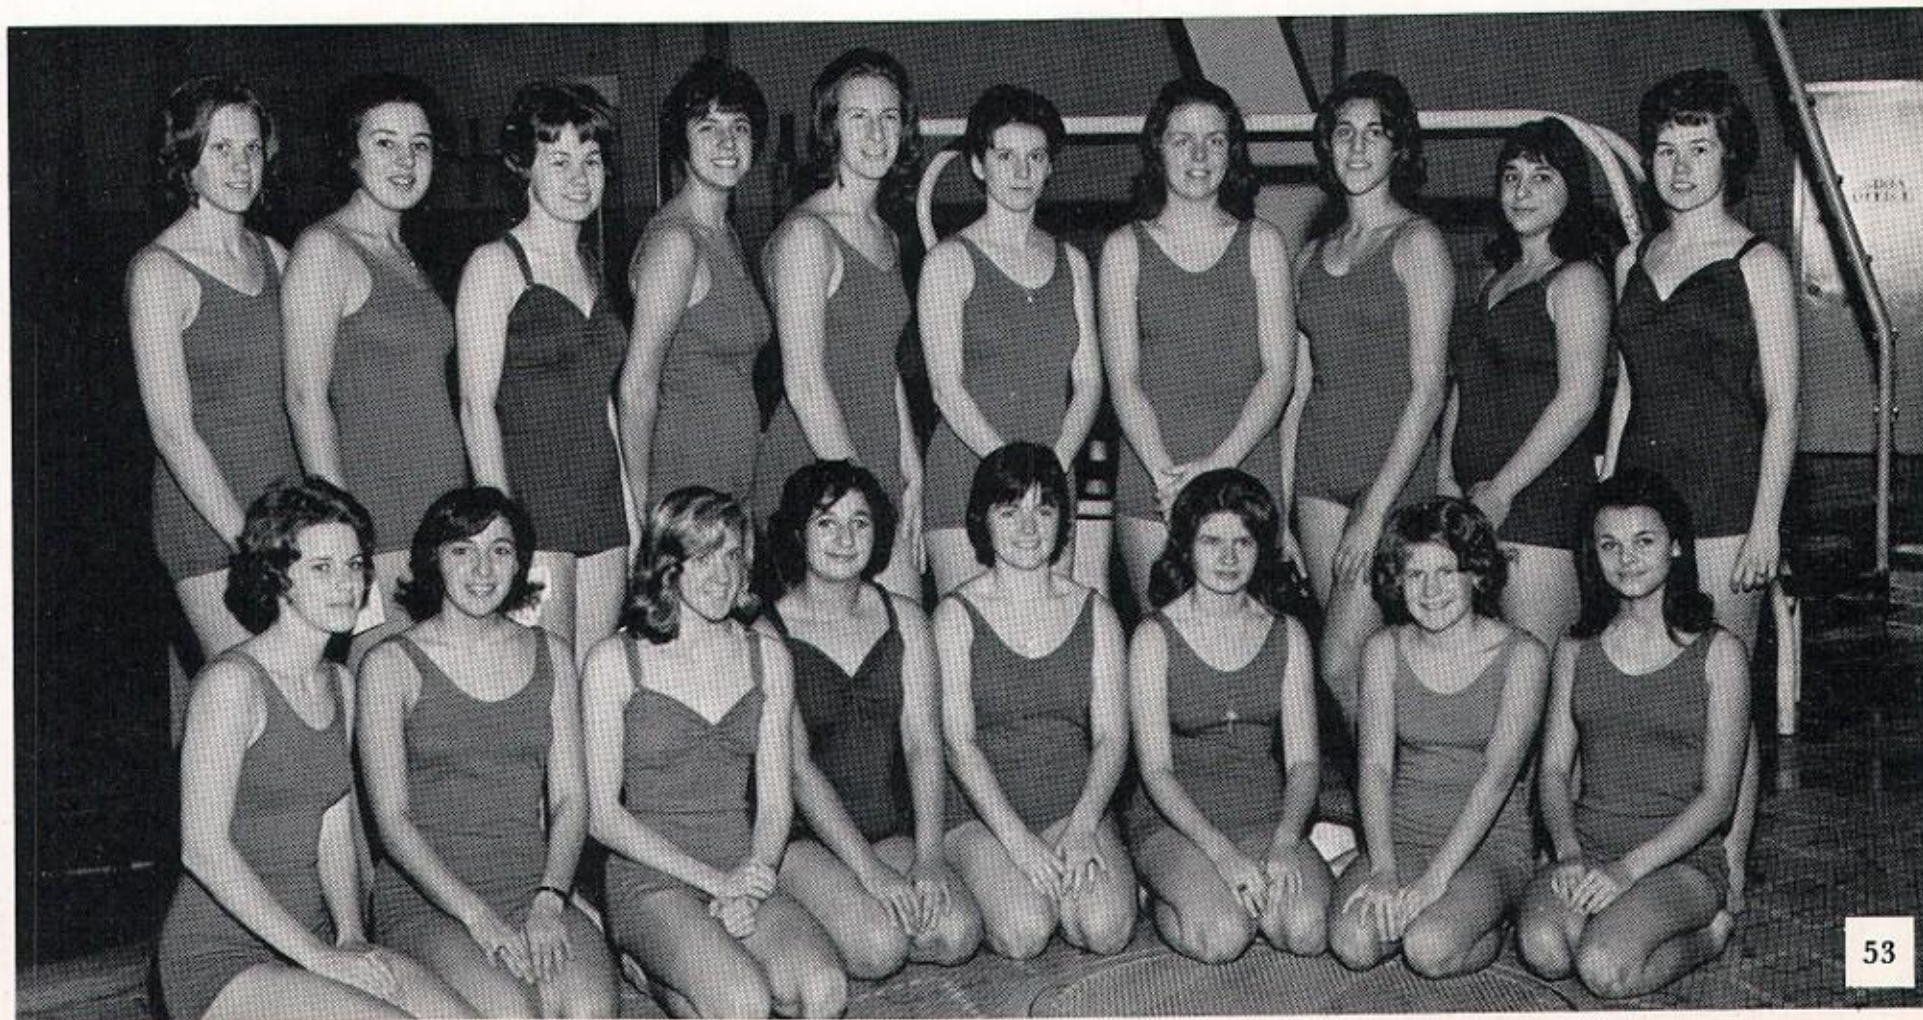

Every Monday and Wednesday during the fall, girls can be seen diligently practicing their skills in the Westbury High School swimming pool. These girls are members of the G.A.A. Swimming Club, which is open to all girls with an interest in swimming. Under the leadership of Miss Patricia Dow, the girls are instructed in swimming skills. All members are given the opportunity to participate in sports days, which are usually held at the end of the season.

1964 shows a 3000% increase

Junior Class

As sophomores, we looked upon high school as a long road filled with obstacles. As juniors, assisted by our advisers, Miss Jeanne Sadlow and Mr. Robert Heist, we found that we were able to conquer many of these problems and also to enjoy the rewards offered by our journey.

Our activities this year were many and varied. Early in the fall we sponsored a Victory Dance and our float, "The Westbury Hillbillies," won first prize in the Halloween Parade. Throughout the year we added to our treasury through the sale of sweaters, pins, rah-rahs, and banners. Our social activities reached a climax with our "Ring Dance."

As we approach the last section of the road through high school, we must stop to consider what we have experienced and what lies ahead. The path we have traveled has changed us—made us wiser and more mature. It is with pride, determination, and cherished memories that we, the Class of 1965, anticipate our senior year at Westbury High School.

Sophomore Class

Sophomores have taken their place among the students of Westbury High School. No longer are they glancing helplessly around, as was done the first few days here. Once heckled by upperclassmen, they are now accepted as a fundamental part of our student body.

Under the guidance of our faculty advisers, Miss Carolyn Bareish, and Mr. Charles Russell, the Sophomore Class now has a full treasury and many happy times to look back upon. Though it took a while to get organized, it was functioning smoothly by Halloween when it succeeded in displaying its float, Horn of Little. In January, the class took a trip to New York City to see It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad, World, an hilarious comedy. One of the class's projects this year has been sponsoring a coat check at all PTA and school functions. Several successful cake sales have been held with the cooperation of members of the class.

As the class moves forward, it looks ahead with eager anticipation to the privileges and responsibilities that it will experience in the junior year.

ACTIVITIES

The daring bloomers of a more modest day have been replaced by the short skirts of today's freer styles. Yet bubbling enthusiasm, hoarse throats, rah-rahs, stirring marches, and cheering crowds all represent the spirit of high school activities, both past and present.

Of all the mementos collected throughout one's high school years, few are so treasured as the yearbook.

The Wing and Spur is a yearbook of which the school is proud. Under the direction of Mrs. Jean Angstadt, Mr. Robert Heist, and Mr. Joseph Raziano, the talents and abilities of many students are combined and coordinated to produce the best yearbook possible. Proof of this is a Medalist rating given our yearbook by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and an A honor rating awarded by the National School Yearbook Association.

Putting a yearbook together is a big job, and several staffs, each doing a particular task, are required. The staffs of the Wing and Spur include literary, layout, managing, art and photography, and business.

It is hoped that, for the students, and even more, for those who have graduated, the Wing and Spur will bring to mind fond memories of our high school years.

Honor Society

Students of Westbury High School attaining high scholastic averages and showing qualities of good character, leadership, and service are eligible for membership in the National Senior Honor Society. A service organization, the Honor Society, under the direction of Mr. John Hotchkiss, aids the school by tutoring and ushering at important functions. Their fund raising activities include a carwash, cupcake sale, and the sale of stationery and labels. This year's induction of new members into the Honor Society was held on February 27, 1964.

Whisp

Written, edited, and printed by the students of Westbury High School, the Whisp is truly the students' newspaper. Published monthly, it contains news stories on current school activities and feature stories of student interest.

The newspaper is supervised by Mr. Carl Monk, Mr. Aaron Barnard and by co-editors-in chief, Margot Publicker and Ian Butt. One of the many special features of the Whisp is the annual Christmas paper.

A comic strip is one of the newest additions to the newspaper. Unlike most high school newspapers, the Whisp is printed entirely on the school premises under the advisership of Mr. Gerald Mallon.

World brotherhood still stressed

Spanish Club

Spanish Club, under the direction of Miss Jean Bogdziewicz, familiarizes students with the customs and culture of the Spanish people.

All students having studied Spanish for at least two years, and first year students having an average of 90 or better are eligible for membership.

During the course of the year, members prepare a Spanish dinner, attend seasonal parties, see Spanish plays and movies, and hear guest speakers talk of Spanish culture. The primary event of the year is a Pan-American Day program in the spring; students from all over Long Island participate in this event.

French Club

Any scholar of the French language is welcome to become a member of Westbury High School's French Club. Under the guidance of Mr. Arthur Maddaloni, the club undertakes many activities to facilitate the usage of conversational French and to better understand the customs of the French people.

The activities include the viewing of French movies, scrabble in French, and study groups with other French students.

Brotherly love the world over is accomplished by knowledge of other people, and our French club has taken a great stride toward this goal.

G.O. established in 1944. First year for Shakespeare Club

Student Council

Officers of the Student Council, Leo Furcht, Pres.; Sandy Schechner, Sec'y.-Treas.; and Marty Blinder, V. Pres., discuss the activities of the student body with advisers, Mr. Joseph Matthews and Mr. Anthony Moreno.

Better student-school relationship is the aim of the Student Council. Consisting of representatives from each homeroom, it strives towards good student behavior and government. Because of its efficient organization, our Student Council has become a member of the Nassau League of Student Government.

A service organization, the Student Council, under the advisership of Mr. Anthony Moreno and Mr. Joseph Matthews, supports such activities as the "Adopt A Family" program at Christmas, the G.O. Store, a fund raising car wash, and W.I.S.E. A suggestion box is made available for those students having practical and creative ideas concerning their school government.

Members of the Shakespeare Club, G. Kraemer, Mrs. May Sheehan, Adviser; L. Von Buelow, E. Eisenhauer, D. Crowe, D. Gibbons, L. Napolin, B. Schuster, C. Kowal, Pres.; A. Gorcey, C. Kreitzman, V. Pres.; and A. Foster observe acting technique demonstrated by P. Jaffe and M. Potecha.

Shakespeare Club

One of the school's newest organizations, the Shakespeare Club, is designed for those students interested in serious drama. Under the direction of Mrs. May Sheehan, its purpose is to help students gain understanding and appreciation of one of the world's greatest playwrights.

In accordance with this goal, the club annually participates in a Shakespeare festival held at Hofstra University. This year the club presented a scene from Romeo and Juliet. A trip to Stratford, Connecticut, in the fall also provided an opportunity to see Shakespearian plays as they are presented professionally.

F.T.A.

One of the school's most enlightening and stimulating clubs is the Future Teachers of America. Under the direction of Miss Harriette Kuhlman, the F.T.A. offers those who plan to become teachers an opportunity to learn more about this profession.

Throughout the year, each member devoted ten hours in assisting a particular teacher, thereby gaining valuable practical experience and a more thorough knowledge of what teaching entails. In addition, various guests are invited to speak on the different fields in teaching. Finally, as a highlight of the year, F.T.A. members spend two days student teaching in the Westbury schools.

Biology Club

Under the capable supervision of Mr. Francis Korber, members of the Biology Club are able to increase their knowledge of the subject. During the year, members work on individual projects for the Nassau Science Congress. To supplement the club program, trips are taken during the club's bi-monthly meetings. One of the main functions of the club is to keep the school more scientifically oriented through the use of displays in the school corridors.

Officers of the Biology Club, Roger Collins, Vice-Pres.; Gary Gelzer, Treas.; Mary Napolitano, Sec'y., and Ed Jacobson, Pres., show interest in a new rubber plant.

Varsity Cheerleaders: F. Shickler, Co-Captain; C. Hemming, C. Jaynes, P. Windus, S. Schechner, P. Heisler, Captain; R. McQueen, and E. Eason.

Cheerleaders

Keeping up the morale of both the team and those in the grandstands is the job of Westbury's cheerleaders. The varsity squad, under the advisership of Miss Thomasina LaGuardia, is chosen by representatives of the student body on the basis of talent, form, and ability. Junior varsity cheerleaders are chosen by their varsity counterparts. This year a Booster Club was organized to aid the girls in arousing a greater amount of school spirit. During the past year, the squads have upheld the tradition of good spirit and sportsmanship and have helped our teams to victory.

Jumping for joy, Patti Heisler cheers the team on to victory.

Thespians

Thespians are a group of students interested in the theatrical arts. To become a member of the group, students must acquire a certain number of points, gained by participation in any of the many areas involved in a theatrical presentation. Under the direction of Miss Jeanne Sadlow, the Thespians have planned and put into effect many activities. Each year they sponsor the Talent Show, the Thespian assembly, and the school musical. This year's musical, Kiss Me Kate, encompassed the talents of many students. As a climax to the year, the Thespians gave out their own academy awards at "Thespian Night."

Stage Crew

Westbury High School's theatrical and assembly programs could not take place without the efforts of the Stage Crew. Selected on the basis of their ability and conscientiousness, it is this organization that is responsible for the lighting, props, and audio effects in the auditorium. Under the direction of Mr. Gerald Mallon, the Stage Crew occasionally works on weekends with major productions.

Debate Club

Under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Nodyne, members of the Debate Club pit their verbal wits against each other and also against other school teams. As members of the Nassau Forensic League, they debated on the topic: "It is resolved that social security shall be extended to include all medical care." The club gives members the opportunity to improve their debating skills and gain self-confidence in the field of public speaking.

Library Club

Through the work of the Library Club and its adviser, Mrs. Mary Rothman, the school library maintains an efficient running order. Each member volunteers free time during study halls and before or after school to assist in shelving, carding, and signing out books. Among the club's activities are the annual fund-raising cake sale, a Christmas party, and a yearly trip. This year, the club toured the Brooklyn Library and Museum.

Reflections

Reflections is Westbury High School's creative arts magazine, written and published by the student body. Poems, short stories, and essays, as well as art and photography, are published for the pleasure and enjoyment of the entire student body.

The staff, headed by co-editors-in-chief, Carol Conte and Lee Napolin, is under the supervision of Miss Janice Chinik, production adviser, and Mr. Gerald Mallon, printing adviser. The combined efforts of the various staffs make this magazine possible.

This year our Senior Red Cross continued to maintain its goal of service to the needy, the sick, and the disabled. Under the guidance of Miss Eva Bronner, faculty adviser, the Westbury chapter conducted a fund raising cake sale, the membership and Christmas stocking drives, the making of scrapbooks, and the collecting of books and magazines for under-privileged children. These many worthwhile functions make our Senior Red Cross an organization of great merit to our school.

Dance Band

At the Dance Band Festival, the school musical, and various assemblies this year, Westbury High School's Dance Band played selections ranging from the "Peppermint Twist" to a jazz version of "Maria," arranged by one of its members.

Comprised of students with a special interest in dance music and jazz, this group, under the direction of Mr. William Kupferberg, practices each week throughout the year in preparation for their upcoming appearances.

Nurses Club

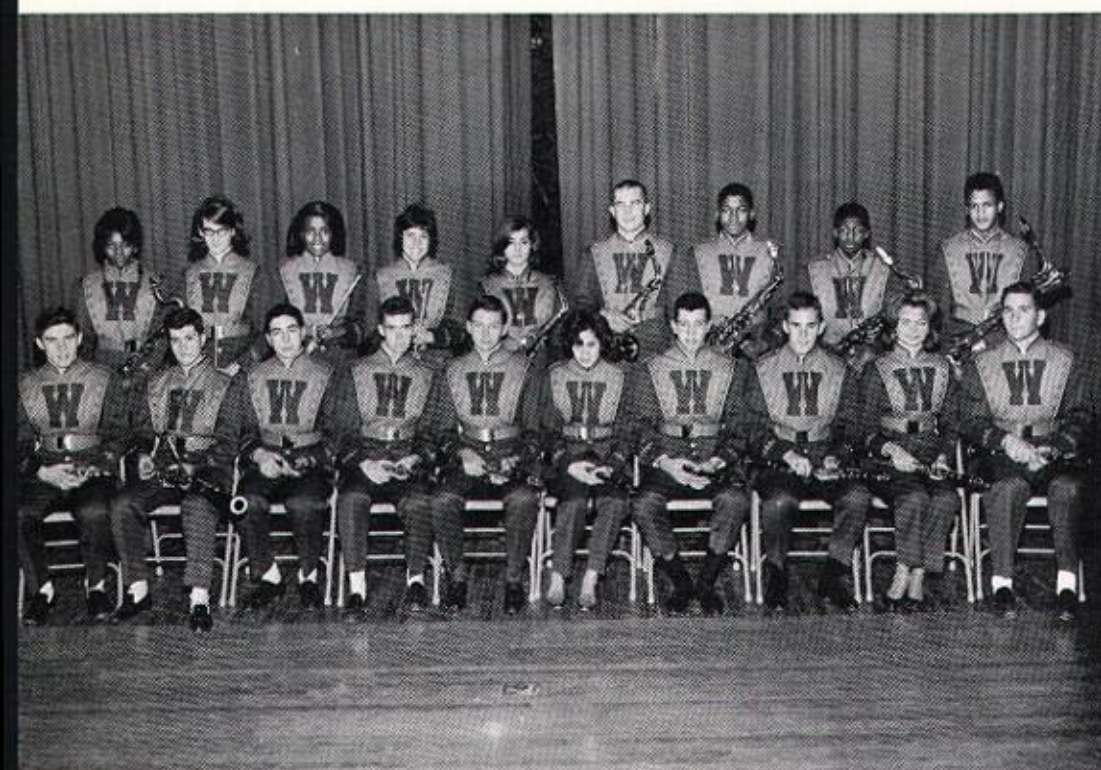

Established as one of the school's most active organizations is the Nurses Club. This year the club, in co-ordination with the Student Council, adopted a family of 10 children. Members collected money, clothes, and toys for the family's benefit. Under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Stephenson, the girls take trips to hospitals to observe the daily routine and invite guest speakers to speak on phases of the medical profession. The members also help Mrs. Stephenson in the nurse's office during their free time.

Dance Band is a 30 year tradition; Nurses Club, a new addition.

Westbury High is fortunate in having an excellent band and orchestra. The band is directed by Mr. William Kupferberg and performs at football games, pep rallies, and assemblies. The orchestra, directed by Mr. Royce Lewis, plays for the school musical and at assemblies. Each year, the band and orchestra perform together at the Annual Spring Music Festival and the Tri-School Festival.

This year, Jerry Weiss, Robert Maksymkow, Carl Annand, and Dennis Raffelock were chosen for the All-State Sectional Band. Robert was also selected for the All-State Band.

Chorus

Anyone passing room 115 during 8th period can hear the Chorus tuning up for its next performance. Under the direction of Mr. Charles Russell, the Chorus, whose selections range from sacred to secular music, sings at the Thanksgiving and Christmas assemblies, in addition to the Spring Festival.

Every year talented students are chosen to participate in the All-County Chorus. This year the students selected were Steven Lewis, Michael Cohen, Joan Mack, and Yvonne Clark. It's largest fund raising activity is the maintenance of the food concession at all home football games.

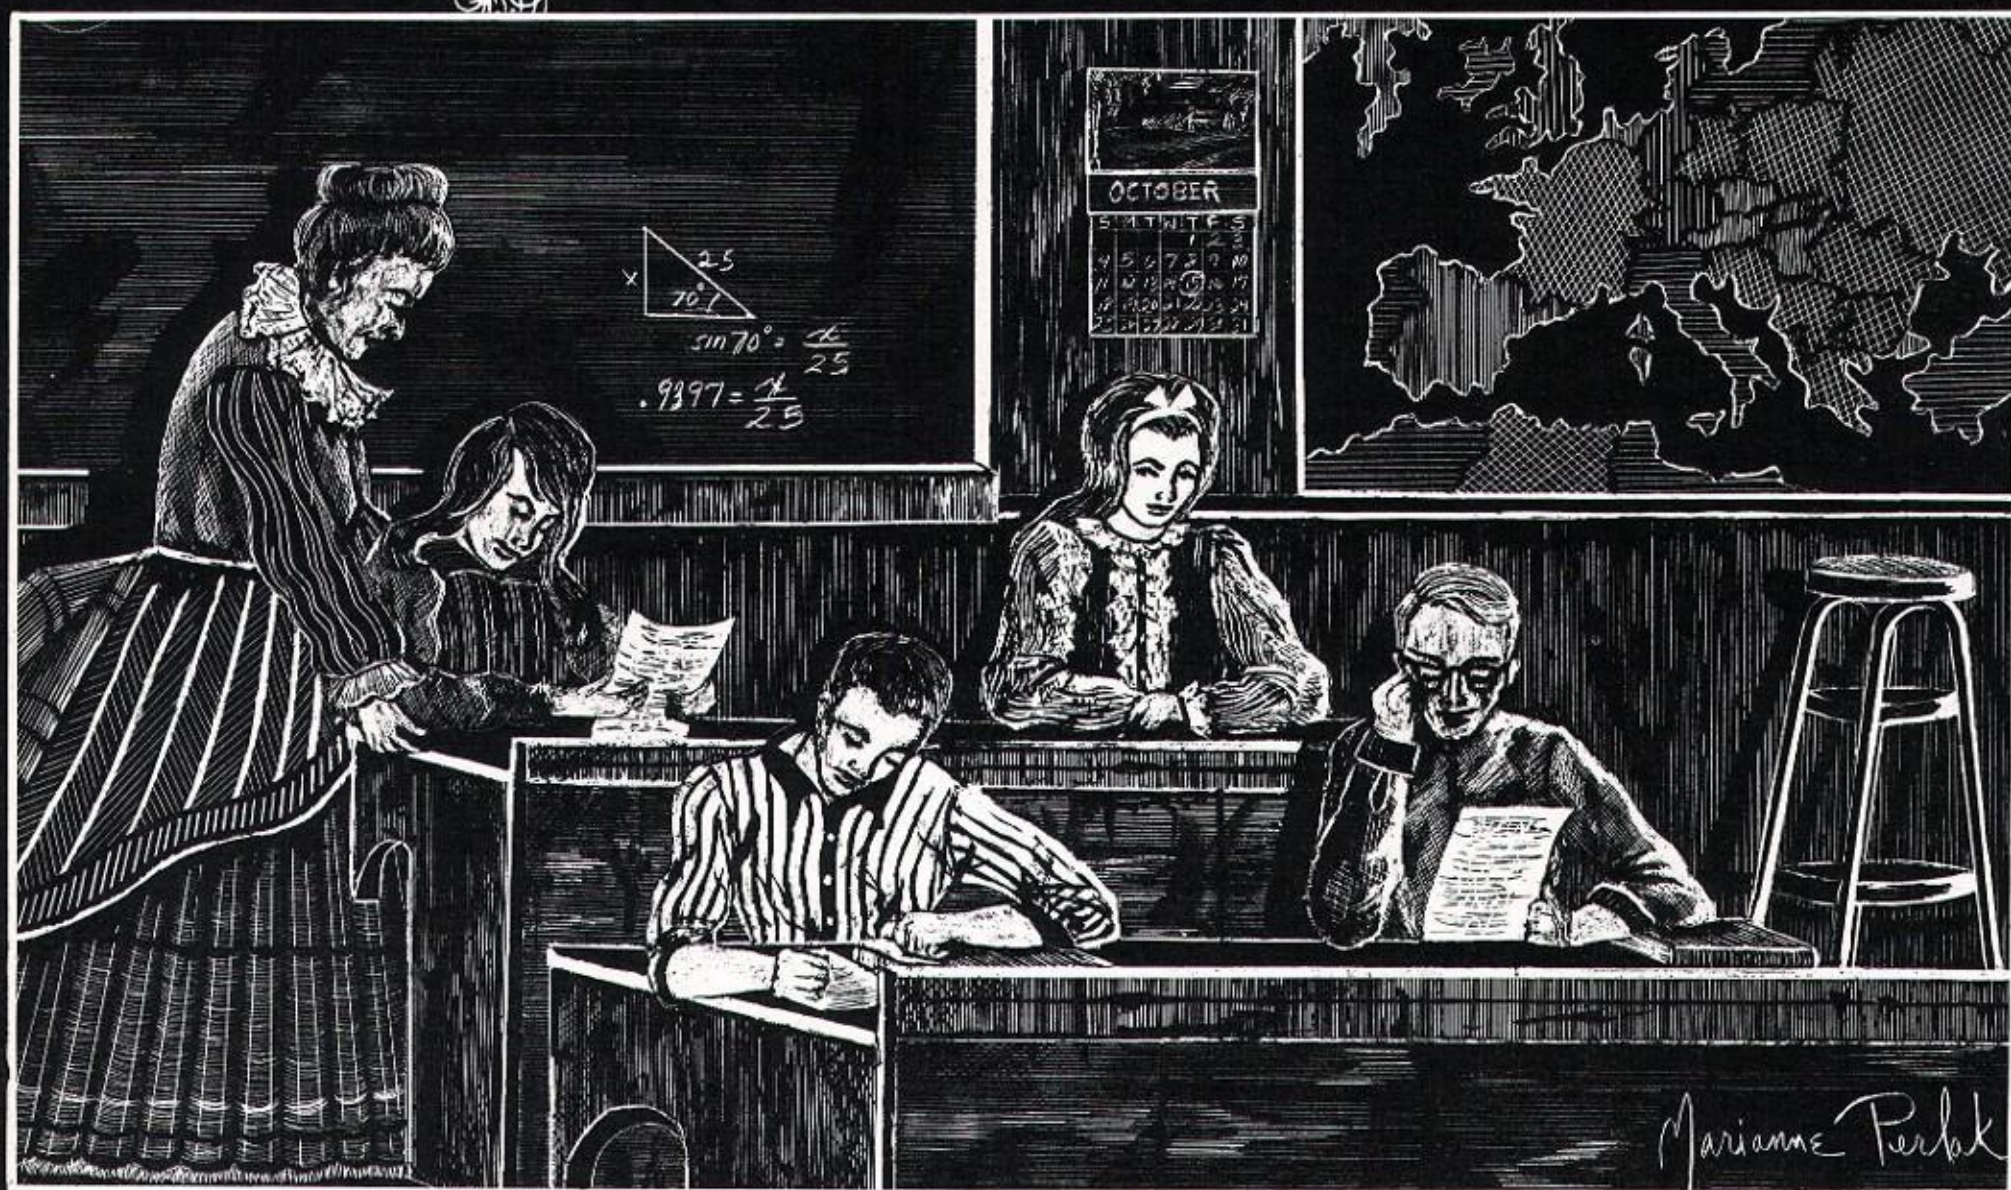

Active since the 1920's

Twirlers

On the football field of Westbury High, students are given the opportunity to view both the military and dance routines of our Twirling Squad as they perform in conjunction with the band. The squad, which also participates in parades, consists of eight girls, with Barbara Zaino as captain and Dorothy Katzenstein as co-captain. Any girl with a satisfactory scholastic and attitude average is eligible for the squad. The girls are then chosen by the captain and co-captain on the basis of their twirling ability.

FIRST: D. Katzenstein, and B. Zaino. SECOND: S. Coleman, B. Nivens, D. Douglas, S. Fitzpatrick, D. Towne, Drum Majorette; R. Allman, R. Ellerby, M. Celiberti, and D. Celiberti.

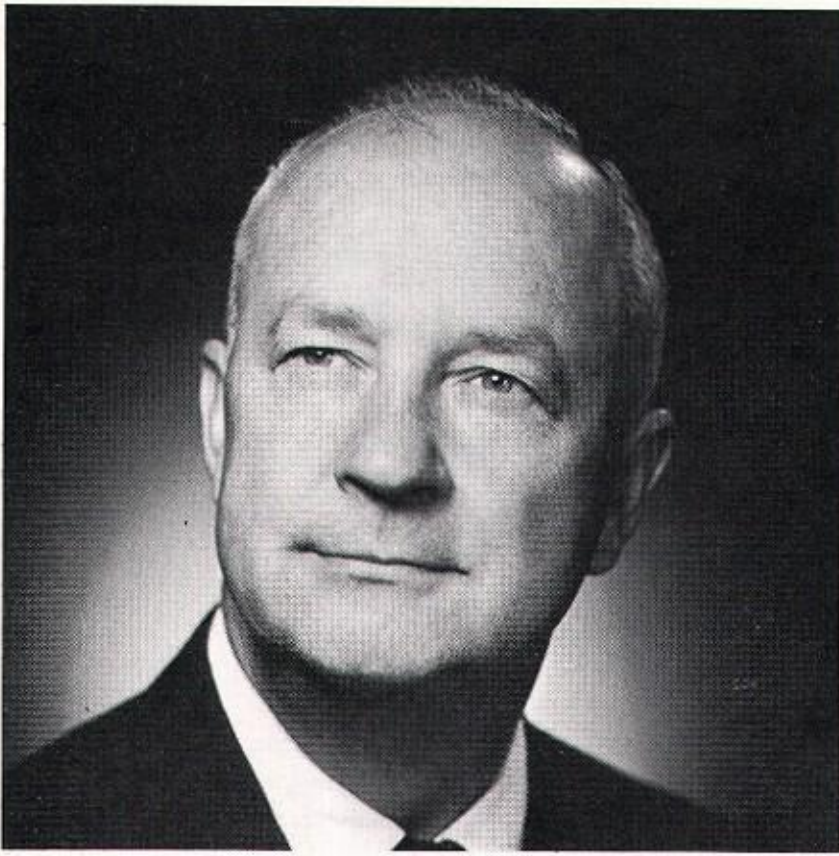

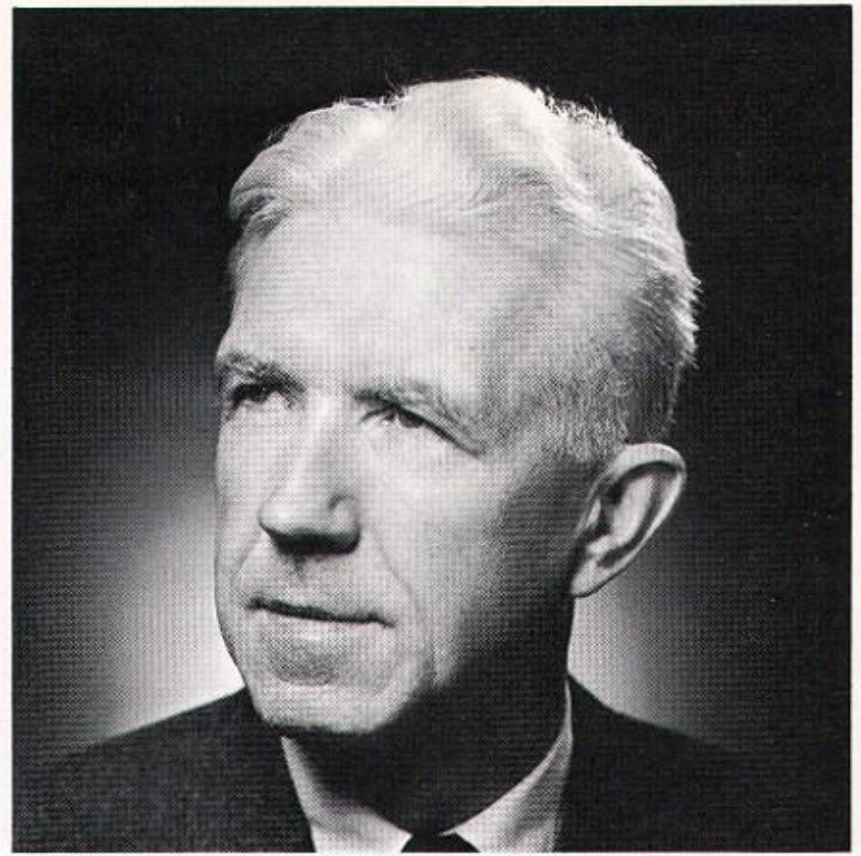

FACULTY

The one-room schoolhouse has been replaced by the many-roomed high school, one teacher by many. Tools such as audio-visual aids and the three-dimensional globe communicate the heritage of the past as was not possible in an earlier day, but the dedicated concern of the faculty remains.

DR. CECIL L. RICE
Superintendent

JOHN W. KICKHAM
Principal

Serving with great dedication, Dr. Cecil Rice, Superintendent of Schools, has become a well-known figure in Westbury High School. His interest in student welfare is shown in many ways: his helpful suggestions, his presence at assemblies, and his frequent visits to our classrooms.

Dr. Rice has given many years of earnest application in the continual betterment of our school system. In addition to performing in an executive capacity, he is also our educator, friend, and guide.

Over the years, Westbury has earned the reputation as a school of which to be proud—a distinction achieved largely through the efforts of Mr. John W. Kickham. He has strived to attain the characteristics so vital to the establishment of a good high school—a carefully planned educational system, an excellent faculty, a wide selection of extra-curricular activities, and plenty of school spirit. We all are indebted to Mr. Kickham for his years of valuable leadership and service.

Board of Education

With skill, patience, and hard work, our Board of Education performs its essential services to insure the smooth operation of the Westbury School system. They are a group of dedicated citizens, willing to devote long hours toward planning and managing school affairs.

FIRST: Mrs. Frances Regan, Clerk; Mr. Donal Mahoney, President; Dr. Cecil Rice, Mrs. Joan Kelly, and Mr. Roderick Dwyer, Treasurer. SECOND: Mr. William Gordon, Mr. Henry Fontana, Mr. Carl Lundborg, Vice President; Mr. Arthur Anthonsen, Mr. Clayton Nicholson, Mr. John Greenwood; and Mr. Frank X. Altimari, Counsel.

Mr. Ray Southard, our assistant principal, is indispensable for his assistance in the efficient management of our school. Mr. Southard works closely with the principal with regard to programming, public relations, and other administrative tasks. This year he acted as co-ordinator for the new disciplinary committee. His dedication, good will, and understanding of the students have earned him the appreciation and respect of everyone at Westbury High School.

"110 down and 830 to schedule," says Mr. Southard to Mr. Kickham.

LEON A. PAYNE
Director of Guidance

Director of the Guidance Department, Mr. Leon Payne, helps students plan their futures. Whether this means going on to college, or entering a commercial, or vocational field, each student can be assured that under Mr. Payne's guidance he will choose the path that is best suited for him. In addition to counseling students, Mr. Payne also coordinates Westbury's testing program and acts as our representative at many college and vocational conferences.

Personnel Services

Among the most important departments in high school are the Personnel Services consisting of the librarian, the psychologist, the sophomore orientation courses, the guidance, and health departments. This year the school has been fortunate to have had added a reading consultant as a further aid to the student. Each of the various Personnel Services plays an essential role in keeping students physically, emotionally, and intellectually on the path to improving their futures. All of our students are able to avail themselves of the facilities of these services.

Science Department

Westbury's Science Department daily endeavors to supply us with the basic information from which we can formulate our own ideas and the opportunities to participate in various functions which will increase our knowledge. Students are encouraged to experiment on their own and exhibit their completed projects at the North Nassau Science Fair. Last year, in a test sponsored by the American Chemical Society, a student won a top award and, in the Nassau-Suffolk competition, three students, working as a team, placed second.

Mathematics Department

Westbury High School is fortunate in having a Mathematics Department which not only offers the regular program, but goes beyond high school level by including courses in analytic geometry and calculus. Last year, seven students took the Advanced Placement Examination. Whether or not students take advantage of the advanced program, those who study under the Math Department will find that they have acquired the faculty of good reasoning—an ability that will help them solve problems in high school and throughout their lives.

Language Department

Knowledge of a foreign language enables us to better communicate with others. This feeling prevails throughout the Language Department. New ideas and methods are constantly being employed; next year there may be a language laboratory.

Last summer several students participated in the summer school program which enabled them to complete first year Spanish after two months of study.

The achievements of the department are reflected in the students who participated in a contest sponsored by the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese, and a similar one in French. One of our students placed seventh in Nassau County.

Facts and facets of living

Fine Arts Department

Within each heart lies a feeling aroused by music and art. The members of the Fine Arts Department help to draw forth the comprehension of music and art.

Every other year, music teachers attend the Music Educators National Convention. This event provides them with performances by the nation's best student musicians.

The Art Department, offering courses from Basic Art to Photography, annually presents an art show featuring student exhibits.

"You don't have to get all choked up," says Mr. Mallon to Mr. Heist.

Figuring the day's profits at the G.O. Store is Mr. Matthews.

Business Department

Westbury offers a specialized business course. Each year the Gregg Publishing Company presents awards in shorthand and typing to outstanding students. Seniors have the opportunity to take Civil Service Exams on the state and federal levels for future jobs. By instilling in the students the fundamental principles of the commercial field, the business department is providing them with a sound basis for their future endeavors.

History Department

It is the goal of the History Department to aid students in achieving an appreciation of the events in mankind's past that have influenced its development. This year's students had the opportunity to participate in a mock political convention for Nassau County Schools, held in Farmingdale. Through the study of history, students gain knowledge of the past, an understanding of the present, and an insight into the future.

Many outlets for this physical prowess are offered by both departments. These include after-school gymnastic activities, attendance at sports exhibitions, trips to see athletes of other nations, and participation in physical fitness marathons.

Playing an important role in the school curriculum is the Living Arts Department comprised of Home Economics, Industrial Arts, and Driver Education. Under the Home Economics Department, girls can enter the Betty Crocker Talent Search through which a scholarship may be won. The Industrial Arts Department this year participated in a new county-wide competition in graphic arts. All sophomores take driver education book work and most seniors will have had the road work by the time they graduate. The Living Arts Department provides a valuable service through instruction in the fundamentals of daily living.

It was said, "By necessity, a man must be able to find expression in both the written and spoken word." Helping the students of Westbury High School to achieve this is the English Department. Through various class compositions, readings in literature, and speeches in Public Speaking, we are taught the meaning and power of words.

The successful efforts of our English Department have been mirrored in the awards won by our students. During the past three years, eighteen students have been awarded certificates of excellence from the Kiwanis for their essays. Each year a Sophomore Speak-Off and Spelling Bee are conducted.

Secretaries

Efficiency as well as friendliness make our secretaries an asset to Westbury High School. Coping with dozens of problems each day, they always find time to offer a helping hand to any pupil desirous of their service. Our secretaries serve the function of providing the necessary personal contact between the student body and the administration.

Edith Bowman, Beatrice Brockey, Marianne Kowalchuk, and Helen King help keep things running smoothly.

Willing and able . . .

and very necessary

Composing the custodial staff are H. Harrell, S. Kent, E. Gerdik, R. Ball, and S. Eannaccone.

Custodians

Although they are a vital part of Westbury High School, few people really appreciate the creditable job our custodians do. This staff is in attendance at all evening functions as well as regular school hours. Efficiently, yet unobtrusively, they perform the difficult task of keeping our school operating in an orderly manner.

Cafeteria

Do you eat to live, or do you live to eat? This year, students of Westbury High School have more time and space to do whichever one they please. The student body has been granted three, forty-two minute lunch periods to prevent over-crowdedness.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Hein, the students are offered a wide assortment of foods ranging from hot lunches, to malts and hamburgers.

Members of the Cafeteria Staff include: SITTING: L. Bulloss, V. Doxey, B. Simpson, R. McDonald, A. Gustavson, and E. Crouchley. STANDING: C. Cissie, D. Hemming, F. Russo, D. King, E. Goetz, G. Carter, A. Russo, and E. Smith.

Practice helps Carolyn Doscher to improve her typing speed.

In his sophomore orientation class, Mr. Coleman helps prepare students for the adjustments to high school life.

Curriculum

Outstanding at Westbury High is a carefully planned curriculum, which includes five programs to satisfy the individual needs of each student.

Students planning to attend college take the college preparatory course in which mathematics, social studies, English, science, and foreign languages are stressed.

For those planning to enter the world of business, Westbury offers courses in shorthand, business law, and business arithmetic, as well as development of the basic typewriting skills. Some business students are taking a data-processing course at the Trade and Technical Center, which also offers work in Cosmetology and various trades.

Students who desire careers in home economics or industrial arts follow specially designed programs with emphasis on practical skills.

No matter what type of future a student is aspiring to, Westbury's curriculum will help furnish the basic stepping stones toward higher goals.

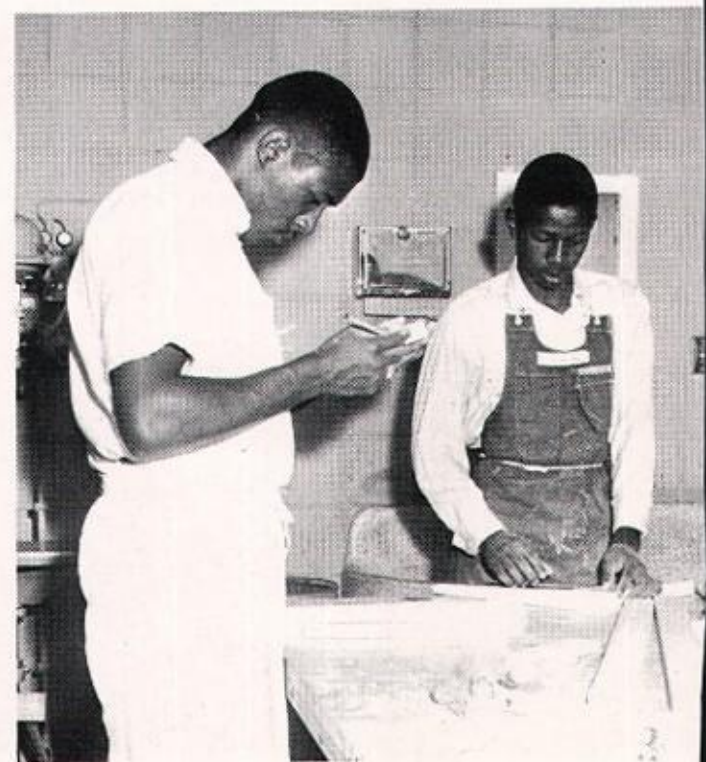

"Now, when I add this, there might be a slight explosion," explains Kenny Walsh to Terry Weingrow and Donna Stuart.

Practicing techniques learned in photography class are Marianne Perlak and Bob Heist.

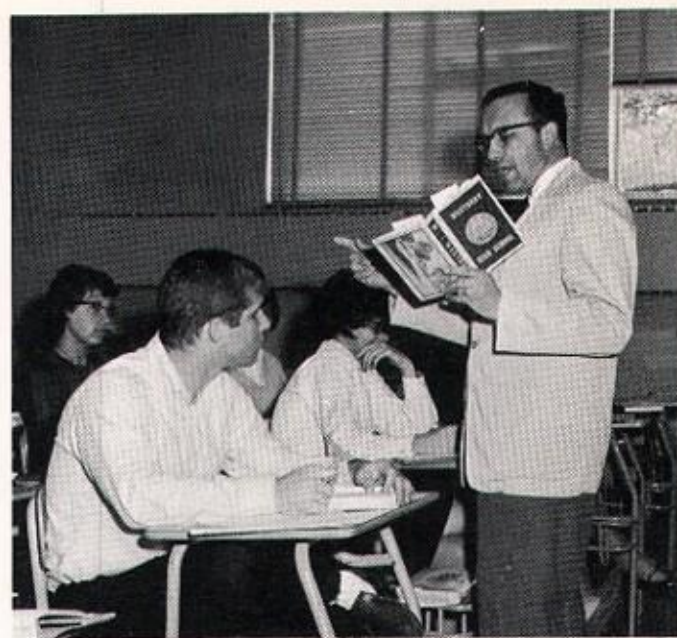

Robert Lyons and Ellery Bumgardner work industriously in woodworking class.

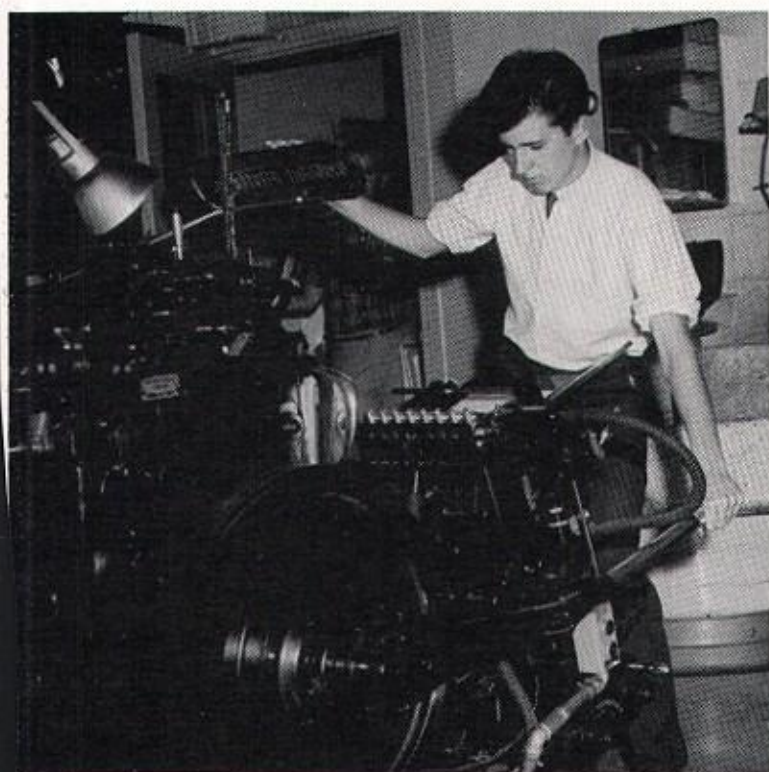

Students listen attentively to a history lecture.

Mr. Moreno explains the probability of all his advanced algebra students passing.

Learning comes in many ways

Buddy Rodgers applies his graphic arts skill while using the Heidelberg printing press.

"That's coming along fine," encourages Mrs. Sheehan to one of her English students.

Miss Proly demonstrates the proper technique for a push pass to B. Culbreath, P. Muller, C. Milazzo, E. Jackson, and L. McKelvin.

Even Hawthorne can be interesting when Mr. Cryer discusses his writings in English class.

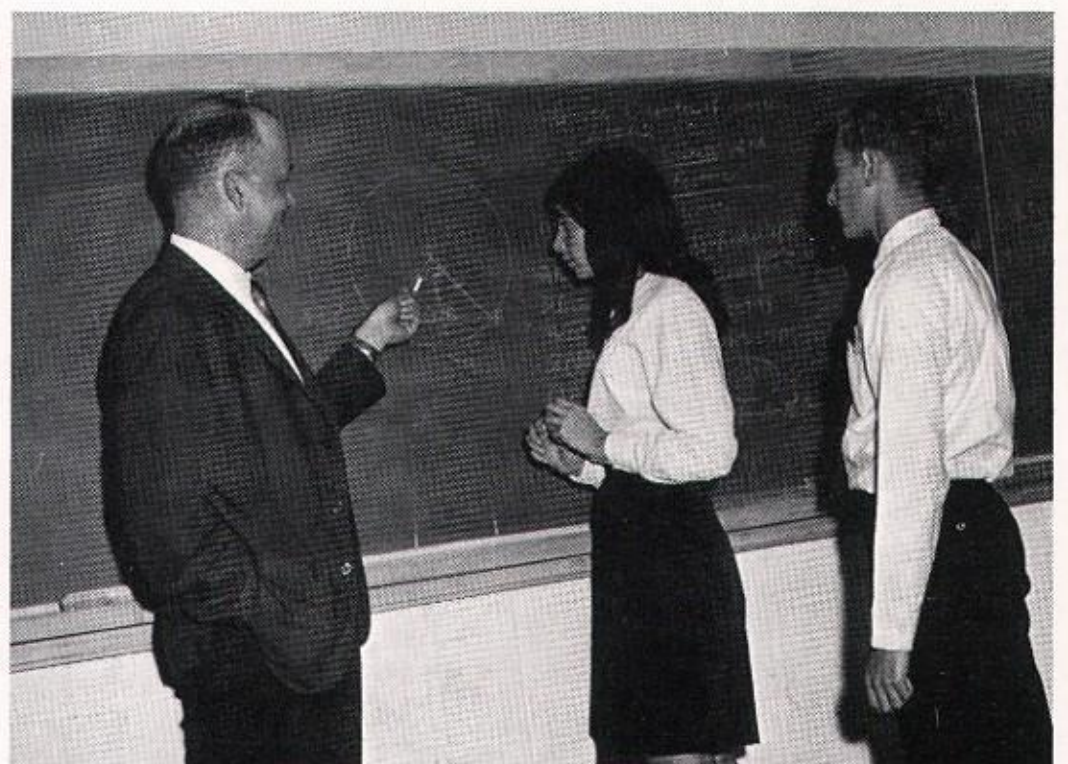

Diligently laboring over their mechanical drawings are Robert Kammerer and Jim Winship.

Developing breadth of mind

"I came to bury Caesar, not to praise him," dramatizes Jack Sander in Miss Grady's Public Speaking class.

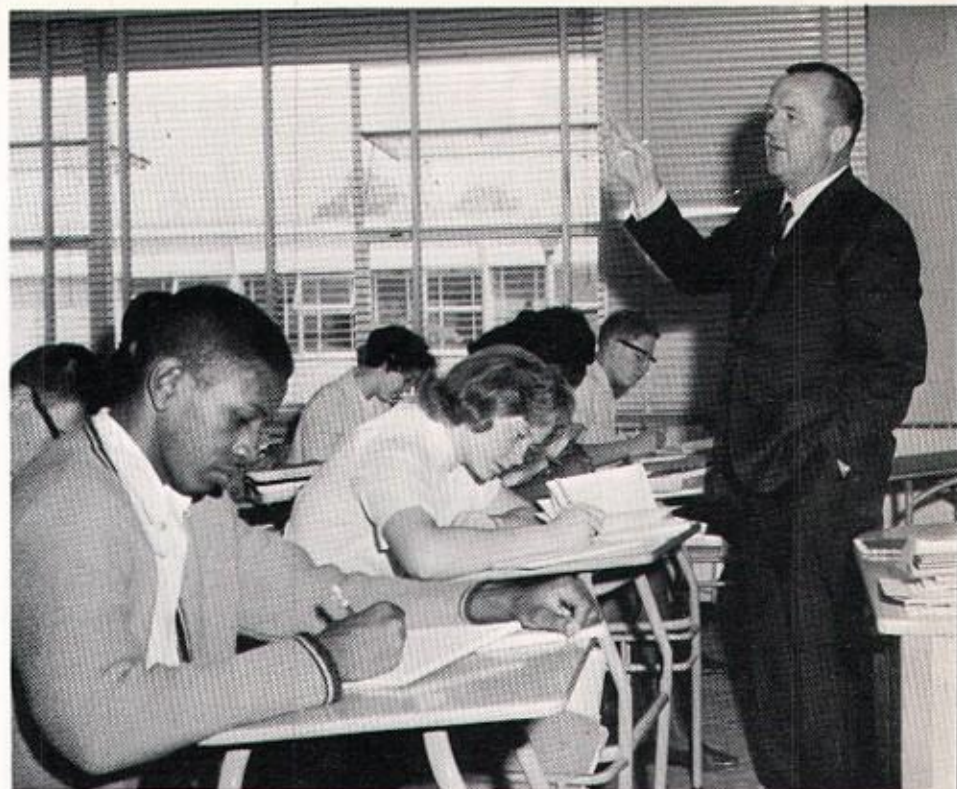

Congruent triangles perplex Karen Haber and Mike Damask until Mr. Cox defines them clearly.

Miss Bronner, Debbie Taylor, and Sandra King discuss the details of sewing by going over a dress pattern.

Mr. Raziano explains the syntax of Rabelais to French IV students, Richard Mirkin, Najwa Adra, and Carol Conte.

Health class students busily take notes on Mr. Coleman's lecture.

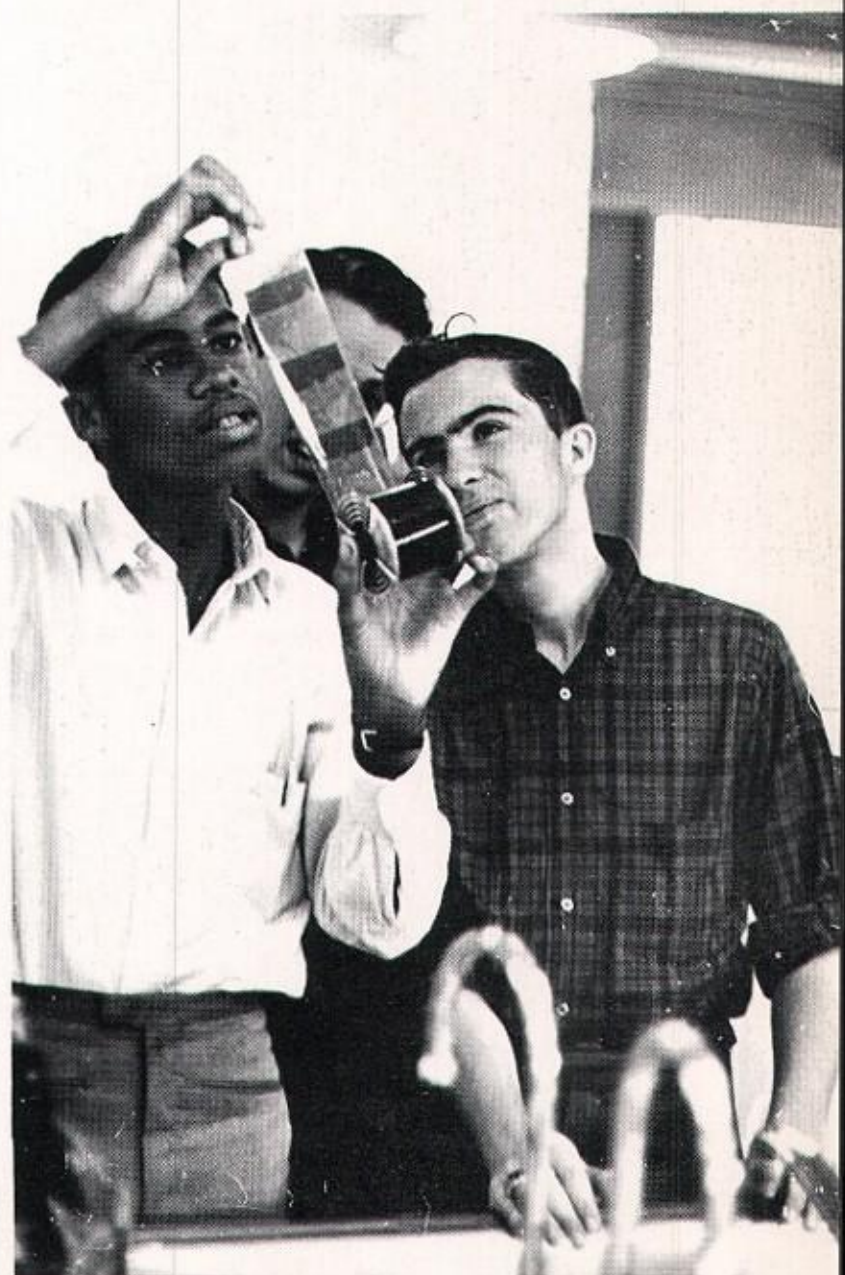

Water colors, pastels, and other art mediums are used by Carole DeAngelis, Carole Schmidt, and Charles DuVal.

"Do you think it's good enough for the yearbook?" says Bob Heist of Malverne Weathers and James Orff.

Planning for the future

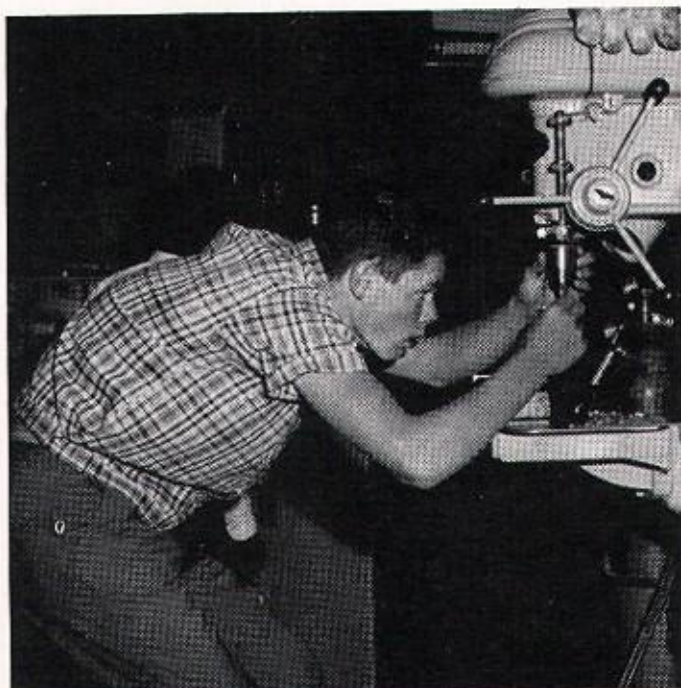

John DeLeo and Bob Eyermann calculate at what angle the block will slide evenly on the inclined plane in their physics class.

Spanish II students attentively listen to Miss Kelly's reading of a chapter from their text.

Dennis Coll cleans out the drill press in his metal shop class.

As a member of the retailing class which operates the G.O. store, Dietra Juley records a sale made to Michael Griffin.

"Is it a ciliate or flagellate?" asks Leander DiManto of Larry Jacobson.

In her advertising design class, Martha Olson seems to be impressed with the latest styles.

"In the long history of the world, only a few generations have been granted the role of defending freedom in its hours of maximum danger. . . . I do not believe that any of us would exchange places with any other people, or any other generation. The energy, the faith, the devotion which we bring to this endeavor will light our country and all who serve it—and the glow from that fire can truly light the world."

"All this will not be finished in the first one hundred days. Nor will it be finished in the first one thousand days, nor in the life of this Administration, nor even perhaps in our lifetime on this planet. But let us begin . . ."

Finis

This ends what today is a new book; in the future it will take its place as an old one. This new-to-old change will not be the only nor the most important change in the biographies and activities of the people depicted in this yearbook. Although the means of communication, education, and transportation shown here may seem outmoded to future generations of Westbury students, we who have produced this book will share much in common with the students of years-to-come, even as we have shared with the classes from 1857 on. Unlike many other things which become obsolete as they become old—the 1964 Wing and Spur will take on more meaning as the years bring change to the world in which we live.

None of the work on this publication could have been completed without the efforts of many persons. We are particularly grateful for the invaluable service given us by Mrs. Jean Angstadt, Mr. Robert Heist, and Mr. Joseph Raziano, our advisers; the American Yearbook Co., and Mr. Phil St. Pierre, our publishers; and Carol Stuebe, our professional photographers.
